Fire Destroys Mansion On Tam, Redwood Area

Shortage Of Water Hampers Fighting

Fire destroyed a rambling old mansion and caretaker's cottage as it swept two acres of redwoods on a Mount Tamalpais estate early today.

Lost in the flames were the eight-room home built many years ago by the late Milan T. Dempster and filled with mementoes of his trips around the world, the adjoining three-room caretaker's cottage, and half of the four-acre redwood grove on the Dempster estate near Mountain Home.

Marin County firemen, assisted by airmen from the 666th Radar Squadron atop the mountain, succeeded in keeping the blaze from spreading through the woods to nearby homes, including a third house on the Dempster estate.

They were hampered by lack of water, as the small mains supplying the area, with little pressure, began to run dry.

Damage to the homes was estimated by County Fire Chief Charles R. Reilley at $27,300. Julio J. Arce of San Francisco, son-in-law of Dempster, said the large home was insured for $23,000 and the caretaker's house for $8,000.

The fire, which turned tall redwoods on the property into popping torches, was reported almost simultaneously about midnight by many residents of the area who saw the flames. The county sent seven fire trucks, manned by 32 firefighters, from stations on Throckmorton Ridge, in Marin City, Woodacre and San Rafael. Ten men from the radar station joined the fight, along with Fire Chief Charles Kirby and Commissioner Carl Modell from the Homestead Fire Department. Muir Woods Park residents turned out with shovels, picks, rakes, and hoes to help in the battle.

The fire apparently broke out in the bedroom of the caretaker's cottage, according to Chief Reilley, who said defective wiring may have been the cause. Occupying the cottage were Peter Anderson, 19, a San Francisco State College student, Ellis N. Story and Duncan Pearce. Anderson and

LONG SESSION

Congress Ends On Angry Note

WASHINGTON (AP)—The first congressional session of the Kennedy administration wound up in an angry whirlwind early today with the Senate having to accept a big money bill which the House bounced to it on a take-it-or-leave-it basis.

The House passed the $1,125,927,341 supplemental appropriation and then quickly closed up shop at 4:20 a.m. With the House in adjournment and no chance for compromise, the Senate was forced to go along with the bill providing money for a wide variety of federal agencies.

The slightest Senate amendment would have killed the measure and forced President John F. Kennedy to call a special session to get the needed funds.

Senators minced no words in expressing anger at the House adjournment prior to final Senate action.

"We have taken a shellacking, and I think it's outrageous," protested Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana.

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois challenged his colleagues to "show how deep is your conviction."

"Let's find out whether the House of Representatives can affront the Senate," Dirksen roared.

But after additional angry complaints, the Senate passed the measure on a voice vote and quit at 6:16 a.m.

The session which ended in the flare of tempers had run up appropriations totaling about $92.5 billion, a peacetime record.

In its home stretch session of about 19 hours, the heavily Democrtic Congress also:

Voted $3,914,600,000 for foreign aid for the year which started July 1. The final figure was a qualified victory for Kennedy, who originally asked for $4,775,500,000.

Cleared a $3,908,880,980 public works appropriation for flood control, rivers and harbors, reclamation and atomic energy projects.

Sent to the White House a bill authorizing the Treasury to assign a number to each income taxpayer in a move to keep closer tab on tax returns.

Put aside until next year was a bill designed to ease the tax burden on Du Pont stockholders who might receive 63 million shares of General Motors stock under an antitrust divestiture proceeding.

Since convening last Jan. 3, Congress approved many major points of Kennedy's New Frontiers program. It also rejected several of his major requests.

Democratic congressional leaders said they were well pleased with the record of the 1961 session and predicted that many Kennedy proposals which failed this year would be passed in 1962.

Republican leaders said they had kept their pledge to cooperate with the president on foreign affairs, and had remained true to their principles by seeking to cut or defeat many new domestic spending programs.

The session's spending was exceeded only by two World War II years and one Korean War year. The 92.5 billion dollars in appropriations for the

John McCone To Take Over Dulles CIA Job

NEW PORT, R.I. (AP)—President Kennedy today named John A. McCone, former chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission, to succeed Allen Dulles as head of the Central Intelligence Agency in November.

Kennedy introduced McCone as his choice to replace the retiring Dulles at a specially called meeting with newsmen at the Naval War College in New port. He is spending a week's vacation at this resort.

EIGHT YEARS

Dulles also accompanied the president to an auditorium where the announcement was made to say that he would step out after eight years as director of the nation's supersecret intelligence gathering agency.

Kennedy said Dulles, 68, would continue to serve him as a consultant on intelligence matters.

McCone, a University of California at Berkeley graduate in engineering, lived for many years in Los Angeles. He commuted to his San Francisco positions.

IN BECHTEL FIRM

He helped form and was president of Bechtel-McCone-Parsons Corp., started in 1937, builders of oil refineries and chemical plants during World War II. The firm now is Bechtel Corp. He left about 1946 but is still in contact with Bechtel executives, Robert Ingram, publicity manager, said.

He also headed California Shipbuilding Co. at Terminal

Board Moves To Sell School In San Rafael

The San Rafael Board of Education moved last night to put the E Street School on the market.

The board voted to hire two appraisers — W. Robert Miller and Edward P. Morphy — to appraise the two-acre property at Fourth and E Streets. It voted also to have a preliminary title search made, and to authorize County Counsel E. Warren McGuire to draw up a resolution of intention to sell.

It hopes to dispose of the property by next June, and to use the money to build a school on a recently acquired site in Glenwood. (The city of San Rafael's lease on part of the building, which is used for public works, planning and building June 30.)

Two classrooms at the school are now being used, but they will be vacated when the new Laurel Dell Intermediate School is completed next month. For several years, E Street has been an "overflow school" to handle classes crowded out of other schools in the city. Its neighborhood is now almost entirely commercial and professional-administrative.

Summer Again And Smog's In Air Again

The momentary return of summer yesterday that brought a high of 92 degrees to San Rafael was replaced today by smog.

The air meanwhile was cooler. The weather man forecast a high of 85 for San Rafael and comparable temperatures for other Marin areas today.

The forecast for the bay area was 78 in San Francisco, 82 in Oakland and 84 in San Mateo. Temperatures already had reached 74 in San Francisco and 68 at Oakland Airport by midmorning. Lows tonight will be 50 to 55.

It will be fair tonight and tomorrow with fog near the ocean extending inland to bring cooler temperatures tomorrow, said the U. S. Weather Bureau. There will be westerly winds of 10 to 18 knots.

Statewide temperatures have been considerably above norman the past two days. Temperatures of more than 100 were recorded yesterday at desert stations, with highs of 90 in the interior valleys.

U.S. Might Send Jets To Europe

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States may send several hundred additional jet fighters to Europe by the end of the year unless the Berlin crisis subsides, Pentagon sources indicated today.

The possibility emerged from guarded response to reports that all or most of the 18 fighter-equipped Air National Guard squadrons reporting for active duty Monday will be sent overseas.

These squadrons have a total of 411 jet fighters, most of them capable of carrying either conventional or nuclear weapons.

NIXON ANSWER SET TONIGHT ON RADIO, TV

Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon steps before a televised news conference tonight to answer the big question — will he run for governor of California next year?

The 1960 Republican presidential candidate will be heard in the Bay Area at 7 p.m. on television stations KGO (channel 7) and KPIX (Channel 5), and on radio stations KCBS and KNBC. A rebroadcast has been scheduled on radio station KGO at 8 p.m.

A story concerning the Nixon announcement is on page 35.

Waterfront Threatened By Blaze

MOREHEAD CITY, N.C. (UPI) —A blazing tanker, the flames fed by high octane aviation fuel, posed a threat of further fire on the waterfront here today 18 hours after explosions touched off the fire and sent seamen leaping into the water.

The entire port was sealed to shipping, and the Coast Guard began an investigation, questioning the crewmen of the 600-foot tanker, Potomac.

The probable death toll rose. One crewman was known dead, either from the fire or concussion of the blasts last night. In addition, the tanker's radioman was reported missing and unaccounted for.

At least 27 other men were injured, four of them seriously. The injured included four fishermen burned by flaming gasoline which shot several hundred yards from the burning tanker.

The twisted hull of the vessel was listing, her midships at the waterline and its bow protruding. Fire was confined to the bow section, where the remainder of some 8.5 million gallons of fuel spilled into the water and caught fire.

'PATIENT FINE'

Brain Blood Supply Cut Off 10 Minutes

STANFORD (AP)—A Stanford Medical School surgery team cut off the blood supply to a woman patient's brain for 10 minutes after cooling the brain tissues and successfully removed a tumor.

The patient, a 54-year-old San Francisco woman, is doing fine a week after the surgery with no sign of brain injury from the interruption in blood supply throughout the operation, the doctors reported today.

The research team headed by Dr. John E. Connolly had used the same blood-cooling technique in many test operations on dogs but this was the doctors' first use of the method in surgery on a human brain.

Dr. Connolly's technique cools the brain from its normal 98.6 degrees Fahrenheit to about 68 degrees and produces a hibernation effect in the cooled tissue. The cooled tissue can survive without oxygen. A normal brain cannot go without oxygen for more than four or five minutes without suffering severe or fatal damage.

Earlier efforts at surgery on the woman patient had failed because blood flow at the tumor site obscured it. The surgeons simply couldn't see the tumor area well enough to operate.

The blood cooling was achieved by circulating the blood through external tubes and a cooling mechanism pump. The cooled blood circulating through the brain cooled the brain itself.

When the 68-degree level was reached, the surgeons clamped off the cartoid and vertebral arteries and stopped the blood flow to the brain.

With the dry surgery field, Dr. Robin Michelson of Redwood City was able to cut out the tumor and stitch up the wound in 10 minutes. Then blood flow was restored.

The researchers had assured Dr. Michelson he could safely have taken 20 minutes. They contend a cooled brain can exist without harm for a full hour without blood.

Working with Dr. Connolly and Dr. Michelson were Dr. James Galvin and Dr. Robert Boyd.

Thief Tries To Make Big Splash

Norma Christian got back the swim suits, but the man got away.

Miss Christian, manager of the Tiki Shop at the Village Fair in Sausalito, went to the back of the shop as a man was looking at some women's swim suits in a display rack yesterday. As she returned, she saw the "customer" leaving the store — with two of the swim suits.

Miss Christian didn't hesitate. With a cry of "stop, thief!" she ran out the door and pursued the man down Bridgeway.

Fifteen feet from the store, she overtook the fleeing thief. She snatched the suits from his hands and returned — to call police. The man vanished.

"I used to be a store detective," explained Miss Christian.

'Vicious Acting' Raccoon Killed

A large, "vicious acting" raccoon under the home of Gardner Owen Davis at 370 Irwin Street, San Rafael, was shot and killed yesterday by Police Patrolman Thomas C. Cheetham.

The said no contact by the animal with humans or no other animals had been reported.

Britain Says Russ Playing With A-Fire

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —Britain today called on the Soviet Union to seek an "honorable deal" with the Western powers on Berlin, disarmament and other critical problems threatening to throw a nuclear cloud over the world.

British Foreign Secretary Lord Home told the U.N. General Assembly in a policy speech that the Russians are playing with nuclear fire by trying "to set man against his neighbors."

He accused the Soviet Union of deception and double-dealing in the collapsed nuclear test ban talks.

"Let her cooperate in keeping the peace," he said. "by strengthening the collective will of the United Nations.

Russ Reply To Kennedy Talk Raises Berlin Settlement Hope

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —The Soviet reply to President John F. Kennedy's U.N. address raised guarded hopes today that the Soviets may be ready to ease the threat of war over Berlin.

Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko turned down the president's bid for a nuclear test ban treaty, stuck to the Soviet line on general disarmament and insisted on a three-man board to replace the late Dag Hammarskjold as U.N. secretary-general.

Nevertheless there were cajoling sounds amid the threats in Gromyko's policy speech before the General Assembly yesterday.

ANDREI GROMYKO
Hope seen in reply

Gromyko stressed that the Soviet Union intends to sign a peace treaty with East Germany whether the West likes it or not. He declared that a war over the divided city could take hundreds of millions of lives.

The Soviet foreign minister also warned the West against "spouting threats" on Berlin and then repeated the Soviet proposition that West Berlin should be a "free city" with free access.

The joker in this proposal, from the Western viewpoint, is that the city's communications would have to be underwritten by what Gromyko described as "appropriate agreements" with Communist East Germany. The West does not recognize the East German regime and insists on its own rights in Berlin.

However, Gromyko suggested the United Nations might take a role in West Berlin to help avoid conflict. Delegates noted that in discussing possibilities for the future status of Berlin, Gromyko said the Russians would agree to "the use of troop contingents of neutral states or United Nations troops as guarantors of the status of the free city."

This created the impression that Gromyko was laying the groundwork for bringing the Berlin problem before the United Nations if negotiations with the West collapse.

Apparently the Russians feel they can marshal the votes among the nonaligned nations to support their position if the tension builds sufficiently.

Many delegates felt that Gromyko's one-hour and 45-minute speech contained little new, although there were some signs of giving ground. Neutrals felt encouraged by what they viewed as a moderate tone.

Gromyko ignored the new U.S. step-by-step disarmament program but produced all the standard Soviet objections to its main premise — that disarmament must be inspected, verified and controlled. He said such control would only benefit Western military leaders and serve as espionage for them.

Officers In Paar Berlin Incident Are Forgiven

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army today withdrew disciplinary action it had taken against two officers in connection with the filming of a Jack Paar television show at the Berlin barrier. It said re-investigation showed the two had done nothing wrong.

Army headquarters here issued a statement released in Europe by Gen. Bruce C. Clarke, U.S. commander there.

A formal admonition against Col. John R. Deane Jr., of San Francisco, was withdrawn.

Clarke also said he had ordered removed from the files of the case anything referring to Lt. Col. Dallas W. Hoadley of Baltimore.

Deane will be continued in command of the Second Battle Group, 60th Infantry, in Berlin.

Hoadley, who was public information officer there, was transferred to Heidelberg.

NEW YORK (AP)—Singer Rosemary Clooney was disclosed last night to have dropped out of Friday night's Bell Telephone Hour television show on the National Broadcasting Co. network.

A spokesman for N. W. Ayers, advertising agency representing the sponsor of the program, said her decision to withdraw followed a dispute over a song for the show.

Tshombe Asks Talks

ELISABETHVILLE, Katanga, The Congo (AP)—Katanga President Moise Tshombe called on Congo Premier Cyrille Adoula today to meet him quickly at some neutral point to settle differences that have disturbed The Congo for 15 months.

Tshombe said, seemingly in answer to a newsman's question, he would be willing to go to London. He himself suggested Ndola, in nearby Northern Rhodesia, where a U.N.-Katanga cease-fire was agreed upon last week.

"Everyone knows my conciliatory position and my desire to solve the problems of the various Congolese parties by "way of peaceful negotiations," he said.

Ford, Union Parley

DETROIT (AP) — Ford Motor Co. and the United Auto Workers Union were believed close to agreement today on a new three-year labor contract.

Company and union spokesmen indicated last night they were filling in the details rather than arguing over major items that could bring on a strike at the nation's second largest automaker.

In negotiations that appeared to be without tension, both sides were under secrecy wraps —pledged to talk only in generalities about the progress of the bargaining.

Shipping Dispute

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — No progress was reported yesterday in the dispute between West Coast shipowners and the Masters, Mates and Pilots Union.

Attack Charged

TOKYO (AP) — The pro-Communist Pathet Lao charged today that Thai, South Vietnamese and royal Laotian troops attacked its positions in Laos during the recent visit to Vientiane of roving U.S. Ambassador W. Averell Harriman.

Japan Violence Bill

TOKYO (AP) — Emperor Hirohito today opened a special session of the Japanese Diet Parliament, badly divided over a measure to curb political violence.

The political violence bill passed the lower house in a stormy session this spring in which the aged speaker, Ichiro Kiyose, was prevented by the Socialists from reaching the rostrum. It was shelved in the upper house and now comes up for renewed discussion.

Left-wing labor groups, students and Socialists plan demonstrations against the bill, which they say is aimed at them.

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI) — Scientists are readying a baby chimpanzee for a late October space ride that could clear the way for an Atlas rocket trip into orbit by a U.S. astronaut within three months.

The United States is planning to send the little ape around earth three times in a Mercury space capsule. The target date is Oct. 31.

Silent Star Dies

HOLLYWOOD (AP) (UPI) Juanita Hansen, 66, heroine of early day movie serials, died at her home in West Hollywood yesterday.

Her body was found by her maid, Pearl Edwards, who told sheriff's investigators that Miss Hansen had been suffering from a heart ailment.

Miss Hansen began her silent film career in 1915 in Keystone cop comedies, succeeded Pearl White as the queen of Hollywood's hectic serial thrillers, then retired after she was scalded in a New York hotel accident in 1921. She has no known survivors.

Against Prejudice

DETROIT (UPI)—The Episcopal Church was on record today for an end to racial discrimination with a resolution saying that "prejudice is inconsistent with the Gospel of Jesus Christ."

The resolution, which was seconded by a Southerner, was passed yesterday by the House of Deputies and expressed penitence for racial discrimination and suggested study programs to improve race relations.

The resolution must go to the "House of Bishops for concurrence.

Children To Get Most Of Estate Of Hector Paris

Marin restaurateur Hector Joseph Paris, 47, who died yesterday after long illness, left the bulk of his estate to his two children and to his sister in Fremont, according to his will filed for probate in Marin Superior Court.

The estate includes Novato Joe's Restaurant, which is estimated to be worth $55,000. Paris named as executors of his estate attorney A. E. Bagshaw of San Rafael and his sister, Katherine M. Varrasso of Fremont, Alameda County.

The will asks the executors to carry on the restaurant and the on-sale liquor business until the business can be sold advantageously. When it is sold, the will leaves one-fourth to Mrs. Varrasso, one-sixth to his brother Bernard of Novato, and the rest as a trust fund for his two children, Nancy, 13, and Michael, 12.

Cadets Chase Prowlers Away From Dormitory

San Rafael Military Academy cadets chased two men out of a dormitory about 3 a.m. today after the men had awakened one of the boys and prowled his room for about 15 minutes.

According to Robert Hamman, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Hamman of 8 King Street in Larkspur, the pair woke him when they turned on his light and demanded money. They threatened to beat him if he made any noise, Hamman said.

"If you beat me up, you'll have the whole school down on you," the youth said he told them.

Hamman said he grappled with the pair over his tennis racket and some records they had taken. As they left the room, he broke a plaster figure on the floor, waking several cadets in nearby rooms.

They chased the men to their car and obtained a license number. San Rafael police were checking out the license number today.

Science Discovers Rare, Relaxed Lizard

NEW YORK (UPI)—In rediscovering an animal some zoologists believed extinct, two scientists discovered the ultimate result of relaxation, which is a state of existence often recommended to human beings.

This ultimate result is a state barely distinguishable from death, and it is the state of a most rare lizard so seldom seen it has no other name than its scientific one—Lanthonotus Borneesis.

Tom Harrisson and N. S. Haile of the Sarawak Museum, Kuching, Borneo, had spent years looking for one, without success. No one else had seen a living one for a very long time, either.

But they knew elusive Borneesis was no mirage. There were some 10 preserved specimens in various museums. This is a remarkably low total, considering the ardor of specimen collectors.

Furthermore, there had been no additions to this collection for many years and you could well believe Borneesis was extinct. If so it would have been a loss to science because nothing was known of its way of life.

Then came the great day last January when Harrisson and Haile pulled a live Borneesis out of a hole in the ground. It was 13 inches long, which is about the average length of the preserved specimens.

It wasn't distressed by being disturbed. It was relaxed, so relaxed it refused food of all the kinds lizards like. It spent most of its time "in a state resembling a coma—superficially it was 'dead'," the scientists reported.

Finally it achieved enough unrelaxation to suck the yolks of turtle eggs which Harrisson and Haile provided. It fed on them nightly, and when the scientists substituted hen eggs, it was agreeable.

When put into a tank of water it turned out to be a very good swimmer. But soon it was utterly relaxed on the floor of the tank and would stay in that state for half an hour.

When on solid ground this ability to relax was no less remarkable, Harrisson and Haile said in their report to the technical journal, Nature.

"When resting it could literally collapse along the whole length of its body, Then, with a very low, slow respiration it was very difficult to decide whether it was alive. Evidently in a natural state it is able to remain dormant for long periods underground without food and very little air."

It was easy to understand why Borneesis is so seldom seen, they said. It relaxes in holes in the ground. Its little activity is at night. And earth sticks to its bumpy skin, which gives it camouflage.

When handled it became unrelaxed and flattened its body into semi-rigidity. It seemed to enjoy being handled and became tame in the way its celebrated Arizona relative becomes tame. Unhappily, after three months Borneesis slipped from ultimate relaxation into death.

That Arizona relative has a scientific name, too—Heloderma Suspectum.. But its unrelaxed state gave it its common and impressive name, Gila monster. Gila bites, and its bite is poisonous.

But relaxed Borneesis "showed no inclination to bite either the handler or anything else, including food," the scientists said. For that reason they doubted it was poisonous.

FIRE

Story escaped unhurt. Pearce was in Sausalito.

Mr. and Mrs. Delmar Costello occupied the larger house, a rambling structure which has sleeping accommodations for 15 persons. They also fled the flames unhurt.

Anderson said he was awakened by the fire and was among those who called the fire department. "I opened the door and the whole downstairs was burning," he reported.

The estate is between Panoramic Highway and Washington Park Avenue. Dempster, who was founder and vice president of the Recorder Printing Co. in San Francisco, built it as a summer home. Mr. and Mrs. Arce also used it as a summer home until 1955, since then it had been rented.

Robert O. Edwards occupies the cottage which was saved from the fire.

"I had just got in bed," he related. "I saw this glow and thought it peculiar that on a moonlight night the moon was shining from the north. I looked out and saw the fire."

Edwards said he attempted to fight the blaze with a garden hose but could get no water pressure. He then soaked a burlap sack in water and attacked the flames with it.

The flames were visible from as far away as Alto and Tiburon, attracting scores of sightseers.

Arce is supervisor and former president of Standard Sales Co. in San Rafael. He sold his controlling interest in the company to Glaser Brothers of San Francisco last March.

TW Becoming 89 On Phones In Novato

Starting Sunday, there will be no new TWinbrook numbers assigned to telephones in Novato, it was announced today by Ross Wright, manager of Western California Telephone Co.

The TW-2 and TW-7 prefixes will be replaced with 892 and 897 on all new assignments, Ross said.

There will be no difference in dialing as the 89 is the same as TW.

The change will be complete in April when a new directory will list only the three-numbered prefixes.

Police will change the numbers on Patrol cars immediately, said Police Chief Roy A. McLeran.

2 Psychiatrists Will Appear On 'Sounding Board'

McCONE

Island, Los Angeles, builder of more than 450 ships during the war.

McCone was chairman of the board of Pacific Far East Line, Inc., with headquarters in San Francisco, from February, 1948, to 1950, and again from October, 1951, to July, 1953.

He served as head of the Atomic Energy Commission for the last three years of the Dwight D. Eisenhower administration and had been undersecretary of the Air Force for more than a year in the Harry S. Truman regime.

Kennedy announced that McCone would go to Washington in about two weeks to work with Dulles and smooth over the period of transition before he becomes director of the agency.

Kennedy said both he and Dulles were "extremely pleased and satisfied" that the 59-year-old McCone had agreed to accept the responsibility. He pointed to McCone's broad experience in government and said he would enter the intelligence field at a real sacrifice.

Kennedy and the first lady arrived yesterday for a week of relaxation at Hammersmith farm, her parents' estate on Newport Neck.

Workman Burned As Gas Ignites

A San Anselmo construction worker suffered minor burns to his left arm when gasoline ignited as he was pouring it into the fuel tank of a crane on the Redwood High School construction site at 11:30 a.m. today.

George Noia, 25, of 125 Ross Street, San Anselmo, was employed by Dobbins Crane Service of San Rafael on the addition of two new wings to the school.

Noia was treated by the school nurse and sent back to work. Workmen put out the blaze with a garden hose. The fire was out on arrival of Corte Madera firemen.

Three Appointed To Demo Council

Three local representatives for the California Democratic Council have been appointed by John F. Dunlap, director of the Firsts Congressional District for the council.

They are Mrs. Phyllis Clay, Petaluma Democratic Club president, as organizational chairman; Joseph Murphy, Santa Rosa attorney, a Seventh Assembly District representative, and Cheryl Peterson, Sonoma State College professor, as representative for the Twelfth Senatorial District.

Ward Merger With Discount House Planned

NEW YORK (UPI)—Montgomery Ward & Co., the financially ailing Chicago mail order house, plans to enter the discount business through a merger with Interstate Department Stores, Inc., it was announced today.

A joint statement by Montgomery Ward chairman John A. Barr and Interstate President Sol W. Cantor said initial plans call for the merger of Interstate into Montgomery Ward to create a retailing empire with sales of approximately 1.34 billion dollars annually and assets of $768,826,000.

Sears Roebuck & Co. would still remain the nation's largest mail order house with sales of 4.13 billion dollars and assets of 2.20 billion dollars.

The joint announcement said "current discussion by the managements of the two companies contemplate the merger of Interstate Department Stores into Montgomery Ward and the conversion of present common stock of Interstate into a new convertible preferred stock to be issued by Montgomery."

The statment said the exchange would be on the basis of one share of Interstate common stock for each share of convertible preferred stock to be issued by Montgomery Ward.

The new convertible preferred issue would provide for one dollar annual dividend and be convertible into Montgomery Ward stock on the basis of one and one-sixth shares of common for each share of preferred.

New Cancer Society Chief Is Installed

Dr. John Manwaring, San Rafael pathologist, was installed president last night at the annual meeting of the Marin Branch, American Cancer Society.

Dr. Manwaring succeeds Carl M. Mosher, Mill Valley businessman.

Mosher was presented with the branch's annual recognition award for "an outstanding job for the American Cancer Society" in the past six years. The award was presented by Harry Mack, executive director of the branch.

Principal speaker at the dinner meeting in Sabella's, Mill Valley, was Dr. Charles Berlin, San Rafael audiologist and speech pathologist. Dr. Berlin, not a medical doctor but a Ph.D., works extensively with persons whose vocal cords have been removed, teaching them to speak again. He is associated with the Veterans Administration in San Francisco and has private offices in San Rafael.

Discussing "Communication As It Is Affected By Cancer," Dr. Berlin told of specific cases and played recordings of persons who had speech impairments or loss and how they had responded to treatment and training.

Living in Mill Valley, he is the president of the Bay Area Speech and Hearing Assn.

EDUCATION DEBATE

Reading, Writing— Or Understanding Growth Of Child?

By CARLETON WILLIAMS

Two educators agreed last night that the purpose of education is to see that students achieve their highest possible level. They disagreed almost totally on the methods of reaching that level.

Speaking at the Marin Jewish Community Center in San Rafael were Phillip W. Schneider, superintendent of San Jose School District, and Joel Hildebrand, chemistry professor emeritus at University of California.

"We need to know and understand the growth and development of children and how they learn before we can achieve excellence in education," Schneider said.

"The task of the schools is to teach reading, writing and numbers," Hildebrand said. "So-called personal growth problems of children must be left to the church and home. Do you employ teachers as amateur psychiatrists to tamper with your child's personality?"

A "hodge-podge" of unnecessary courses are being taught today, according to Hildebrand. These include studies of morals, alcohol, narcotics, first aid, accident prevention, driver education and psychology.

"Knowledge in itself does not necessarily lead to appropriate behavior," Schneider said. "Citizenship improves in direct ratio to our emotional health. Factual learning is important, but we must recognize the importance of the context of learning."

"I believe in education, not adjustment," Hildebrand said. "The music of Bach was not written by a committee."

Hildebrand, who said his four children and 12 grandchildren had sharpened his knowledge of teaching, cited as ridiculous an example of a Shakespearian class which made a cake in the form of the Bard's house at Avon. He also condemned a course, which he said is taught in some schools, on how to have a successful date.

"What experiences must the teacher have had to qualify for teaching such a course?" Hildebrand asked.

Schneider said the teacher is the most important unit in the educational process and deplored the fact that the average tenure of teachers in California is four years.

It is of course the moral responsibility of our teachers to develop excellence in the three Rs," Schneider said. "But we all must become lifelong learners so every graduation is a commencement."

Hildebrand was a member of the Citizens Advisory Committee to the Legislature which made 104 recommendations to the State Board of Education last year. He is also scheduled to receive the Priestly Medal, an award given by the American Chemical Society of which he is a past president.

The debate, first of a series of three on current education problems, was moderated by Lawrence I. Kramer Jr., Dixie School District trustee.

Next in the series at the Jewish Community Center will be on Oct. 3 when Rep. Clem Miller; Robert Tideman, radio KPFA commentator, and Dennie B. Willis, Dixie School District superintendent, will discuss financing of public school growth.

THE CRUTCH OF THE MATTER

Leaning on each other for moral support are five students and a teacher—1 per cent of the population—in Alexander Central School, Alexander, N.Y., bouncing around on crutches as a result of a variety of accidents. "Chairman" of the group is Douglas Keister (right), a teacher, who fell from a ladder. The others (from left) are Rosemary Muchard, 12, who fell out of a swing; Diane Catlin, 14, who stepped on a nail; Allen Leaton, 11, who fell off a hay baler; Darlene Diehl, 14, who tangled with a lawnmower, and John Hinze, 17, who was thrown from a horse. 'Tiburon Waterfront Isn't For The Birds'

A move to conserve Tiburon waterfront for permanent use by the public was launched yesterday before the Marin County supervisors, who reacted with interest.

Immediate result was referral to the county planning commission which is expected to revive its project of last year for creation of a new type of "open area" zoning, with Tiburon its point of first application.

"What's good enough for ducks is good enough for us," said Mrs. Constance Field of Tiburon, president of the Belvedere-Tiburon Conservation League.

She pointed to steps already taken in creation of a Richardson Bay bird refuge and said it would be a vast pity to let present Northwestern Pacific Tiburon waterfront property go into private development.

This property is now zoned "planned commercial." Planning Director Mary Summers said it might be held without use as "open" with the idea that it might ultimately be purchased for public use.

Chairman William D. Fusselman objected that the planners' idea of a new zone had been "a shotgun prescription" but felt it desirable to send the matter back to the commission for review.

Algeria became a French colony in 1830 when an expedition splashed ashore to subdue the Barbary pirates.

Hub City Police Force Salaries Are Discussed

Robert Craig Alberigi was hired from the Sausalito Police Department last night for the San Anselmo police force to succeed Officer Alan L. Perry, who resigned to join Fairfax police.

Alberigi, who is a graduate of the San Francisco Police Academy and has one and one-half years experience, will get starting pay of $436 per month. His brother George is already on the San Anselmo force.

Perry's resignation touched off a San Anselmo City Council discussion on whether San Anselmo's pay scale is adequate. Perry's letter indicated it was the pay that induced him to go to Fairfax.

San Anselmo policemen start at $415 and go to $505 in three and one-half years. Fairfax police start at $485 and reach the top salary of $510 after six months.

Chances for advancement are greater in Fairfax, wrote Perry. If the police chief, assistant and sergeants in San Anselmo retain their jobs until retirement age, a patrolman would have to wait at least 13 years before the first promotional examination and another 12 years for the second promotional examination, said Perry.

Councilman Robert E. Rouse asked Administrator Douglas Flautt whether San Anselmo's police promotional system has some deficiency. Flautt said the system is consistent with the rest of the state.

Chief Raymond R. Buchignani said he favors San Anselmo's method of gradual pay increases. But he said he feels San Anselmo policemen should have received a five per cent pay raise, as he requested at budget time.

'LOSS LEADER' LAW

New Competition In Grocery Prices

Outlawing of quantity limitations on "loss leader" grocery items has set off a new kind of grocery price competition in Marin County.

Two things have happened, a check of grocers' shelves and advertisements disclosed today:

1. Despite the "no limit" requirement, the loss leader is still with us, but it is more likely to be a "house brand" rather than an advertised brand of a food product.

2. At least some grocery firms have lowered shelf prices on items that were prime advertising "loss leaders," such as coffee.

These trends in grocery pricing emerge from an attempt by the legislature this year to make possible enforcement of a ban on "loss leaders" (merchandise sold below its cost to the retailer) which was enacted nearly a decade ago.

The earlier law banned such selling if it could be proved to be an attempt to destroy competition. This was to leave the way open for sales below cost when a merchant wished to close out a certain line, reduce inventories to raise needed cash, etc. Edmund G. Brown, then attorney general, in effect called the law unenforceable.

To prevent raids by rival merchants, grocers customarily limited the number of a "loss leader" item which a person could buy. This year, the legislature made such limitation prima facie evidence of an intent to destroy competition. Thus, a limit on the number to be purchased at a certain price would constitute proof of violation.

The majority of both houses of the legislature (a small majority in each case) believed this would do away with "loss leader" selling, which was represented to the legislators as damaging the small independent grocer while benefitting chain stores and the big "supers."

The new law took effect Sept. 15.

What has happened is partly disclosed in today's market advertisements in the Independent-Journal.

Two weeks ago—before the "anti-loss leader" law was in effect—a majority of stores featured advertised brands of coffee at special prices of 45 cents to 49 cents a pound.

Today, there are only a couple of such coffee prices advertised.

Two weeks ago, one chain store with its own bakery advertised a cut price on bread—an item virtually unheard-of as a price "leader." Today, a local independent operating two stores is advertising regular 29-cent loaves of bread—any brand—at three for 79 cents. (And no limit on purchases, in case you want to store the bread in the freezer, where it will stay fresh.)

Prices on a number of customary "leader" items, including margarine, salad oil, shortening, and canned fruit, are advertised today at figures virtually identical with those of two weeks ago. But nearly all of these specials in today's advertisements are "house brands" of the chains, rather than advertised brands sold at many different stores.

Reed Schools Plan Parents' Booklet

Reed School District will have a "parents' handbook" ready for distribution next fall, Supt. Edward C. Pino told the district's trustees last night.

Pino said the booklet will be written by the administration staff this fall, then "coordinated" with parents and trustees, and printed next summer.

The trustees voted to discuss the four-year building and site study of the district at their Dec. 12 meeting.

Excavation Ordinance Will Be Dusted Off

Orders went yesterday from county supervisors to county planners for a dusting-off of last year's proposed excavation ordinance which somehow fell down a hole.

The Marin Federation of Improvement Clubs and the Marin Conservation League wrote to demand that it be brought to light again.

"Money was why it didn't go through last year," said Public Works Director Marvin W. Brigham, recalling that the original hearing was on Aug. 9, 1960. "I figured it will cost at least $10,000 a year to enforce it."

Brigham explained that permits would have to be obtained for excavations of certain size, or for cut or fill of greater than one to two ratio as compared with adjacent property. At least one new man and possibly two would be needed for permits, inspection and policing, he believed. Those excavating would have to pay for the permits.

Administrator Alan Bruce said county expense would be somewhat offset by permit income.

The supervisors also:

1. Allowed the Unitarian Church of Marin to cancel an agreement to provide fill for the civic center at 50 cents a yard, as it had been unable to excavate as planned.
2. Finding that Marin auto dealers in some cases lack factory price lists on 1962 vehicles, postponed to 4 p.m. Oct. 3 the time for opening bids on a car for the county fire chief.
3. Awarded to Graham Lumber Co. of San Rafael a $1,508.73 contract for redwood posts to support county highway signs.
4. Split an award for various items of county highway sign equipment to give a $923 contract to Kresky Signs of Petaluma; one of $208 to Hawkins and Hawkins of Berkeley; one of $212.16 to Zumer Industries of Los Angeles.
5. Set for 2:30 p.m. today an informal conference on civil defense as preliminary to board action later.

Tiburon Meeting

The Tiburon Peninsula Coordinating Council will hold a membership meeting today at 8 p.m. in the Belvedere Community Hall to discuss the Tiburon Boulevard widening program, according to president Dick De Berry.

Exemptions Urged For Bomb Shelters

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Supervisor Frank G. Bonelli today urged state legislation to give persons building fallout shelters property exemptions up to $1,000.

Bonelli, stressing he intended such relief for bona fide shelter builders, suggested such a proposal go before the next legislative session.

Earlier, chairman Ernest E. Debs won formal approval of an ordinance to create a county and cities disaster board proposed several weeks ago.

Board Votes Fund For Hub Crossing Repair

A grant of probably $17,000 was voted by Marin County supervisors yesterday for San Anselmo's projected paving and reconstruction of the Hub intersection and Sir Francis Drake Boulevard from the Hub to Fairfax.

Supervisor J. Walter Blair moved that the county contribute "not more than $20,000," comprising the remainder of an initial $82,000 for such city-county cooperation.

Public Works Director Marvin W. Brigham said the fund had already been depleted for committments to Mill Valley and Corte Madera, so $17,000 was likely to be what San Anselmo would get.

The board directed Brigham to have his department provide necessary engineering aid on a project of estimated $50,000 overall costs. The county counsel is to perform any legal work required.

Supervisor Walter R. Castro also put through a motion that Brigham is to negotiate for right-of-way properties along county-owned portions of San Pedro Road for widening by the county and San Rafael.

DANIEL A. COLLINS
Governor's choice

Brown Names Dr. Collins To State Job

Dr. Daniel A. Collins of Mill Valley was named by Gov. Edmund G. Brown yesterday to a four-year term on the State Board of Public Health.

Dr. Collins succeeds Dr. Henry J. Volonte of Hillsborough, whose term has expired.

Collins, a dentist, practices in San Francisco, but has resided in Mill Valley since 1950, except for two years in military service, assigned to the Armed Forces Institute of Pathology at Walter Reed Army Medical Center in Washington, D.C. He was discharged in 1958 as a lieutenant colonel.

He and his wife and four children live at 700 Summit Avenue, high in the Mill Valley hills.

DENTAL DEGREE

Collins was born Jan. 11, 1916, in Darlington, S.C. He was graduated from Paine College in Augusta, Ga. He received a dental degree from Meharry Medical College in Nashville, Tenn., and a master's degree in dentistry from University of California.

In addition to private practice as a dentist and oral pathologist, he has served on the faculty of the University of California College of Dentistry since 1942 and is a member of the dental staff of Mount Zion Hospital.

Active in politics and political campaigns since the 1940s, he was a delegate to the 1956 National Democratic Convention. He is president of the Fillmore Democratic Club in San Francisco.

MEMBERSHIP

Collins is a founding member of the San Francisco Urban League; a director of the San Francisco Council for Civic Unity, the San Francisco Branch of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People, and the Booker T. Washington Community Center. He also is a member of the board of governors of the United Bay Area Crusade.

He is a member of the American Dental Assn., National Dental Assn., and American Society for the Advancement of Science, and an alternate to the House of Delegates of the California Dental Assn.

In March, 1960, Collins was named by Governor Brown as one of 19 professional members of the Governor's Committee on the Study of Mental Aid and Health.

The Columbia River rises from Columbia Lake in the Canadian Rockies.

THE ULTIMATE SPACE ENGINE?

A technician at Hughes Aircraft laboratory at Malibu works on an experimental ion engine, a type of power plant many scientists believe will be the ultimate form of propulsion for long trips into space. The engine vaporizes a rare metal, cesium, and accelerates ionized atoms to produce thrust. Its first public demonstration took place today. (AP Wirephoto)

Mayor, Councilman's Battle Comes To Light In Hub City

By WAT TAKESHITA

San Anselmo city councilmen wrangled again last night over downtown street lights in a discussion that generated more heat than light.

Councilmen are still undecided on what type of lights to buy for San Anselmo Avenue in the downtown area. Sparks flew last night as Councilman Robert E. Rouse and Mayor Carleton G. E. Little tore into each other.

The verbal slugfest proceeded in this fashion:

Two weeks ago, Rouse had received a letter from Richard Hartshorne, a sales representative of General Electric Co., who outlined what he considered advantages and disadvantages of various types of lighting. At that time, Rouse produced the letter and had it read to the council.

Last night, Hartshorne was present to explain various points he had brought out in the letter. Hartshorne's main point was this: The city should install a relatively standard fixture that is not too expensive, because in a few years, the lights may have to be replaced since the city is talking about a mall. He recommended calling in a lighting expert. He suggested Dr. Dan Finch of University of California.

Mayor Little said Hartshorne's letter should have been written to the city council, not to Councilman Rouse.

"Wait a minute!" Rouse broke in. He said he wanted more information on lighting and so got Hartshorne's opinions. As soon as he got the information, he said, he let the council know.

Then Rouse charged the mayor had committed the city to a certain brand of street light without consulting the council.

Rouse said he was called into the office by Mayor Little just prior to a previous council meeting. He quoted the mayor as saying, "Doug (Administrator Flautt) and I have been talking about this, and we've decided we're going to buy the Peerless light."

Rouse said he refused to go along with this type of backroom "shenanigans."

"I consider your action more improper than mine," he bristled.

Little made no reply to this charge.

Councilmen William Franchini and Arthur W. Smith spoke up to say they see nothing wrong in citizens writing letters to one councilman or another.

Rouse commended Hartshorne for his opinions as a citizen and taxpayer and thanked him "for an objective contribution" toward street lighting in San Anselmo.

At Rouse's suggestion, the council decided to contact Dr. Finch of University of California for information on lighting.

The council also asked the administrator to bring in information on other types of lighting.

More discussion on lights is expected at the next meeting.

San Anselmo Council Urges Transit Review

San Anselmo city councilmen want Golden Gate Bridge District directors to consider again the feasibility of putting rapid transit across the Golden Gate Bridge.

Three weeks ago, the bridge directors accepted an engineer's recommendation that rapid transit not be allowed across the span.

The San Anselmo Council last night went on record as asking the bridge directors to reconsider. City officials said they would like to see an impartial study of whether rapid transit is feasible across the bridge.

The council approved a lot split for Eckert Realty on a parcel of land between Oak Avenue and Vine Avenue. The city planning commission approved the split into two lots, because both would be buildable.

Administrator Douglas Flautt was asked to bring in cost estimates on a large map of the city to hang in the council chambers.

105 MPH Speeder Lands In Jail

"I'd had a fight with my wife," was the explanation of a Terra Linda High School labor foreman for driving up Highway 101 at 105 miles an hour last night.

California Highway Patrolman G. L. Walkup said Merle Frank Samples of 657 Railroad Avenue, San Rafael, passed 15 to 18 cars with no lane change signals as he cut in and out of traffic northbound between Highway 37 and Diablo Avenue, Novato, at 8:15 p.m.

Samples was taken to Marin County Jail and booked on charges of reckless driving and having no operator's license.

Terra Linda Landscaping Is Discussed

Establishing a landscape maintenance program for the Terra Linda shopping center were discussed by merchants and the Terra Linda Community Services District Board last night.

It was decided to determine costs, and ascertain from the county counsel as to whether the merchants can enter into contract with the district for such a program.

Elmer Johnson, civil defense director for the district, reported that whereas other areas have experienced recent slight increase in radio-active levels from fallout resulting from renewed Soviet atom tests, the Bay District has registered no increase. He said daily Marin County reports are sought, but not obtainable.

The board heard a preliminary specifications report on the $20,000 1,250-gallon pumper about to be bought for the district's fire department. No action was taken.

Bagley To Discuss State's Boss Politics

"Boss Politics in California" will be discussed by Assemblyman William T. Bagley tonight at the Marin County Council of Mayors and Councilmen at the Marin Golf and Country Club.

The City of Novato is the host to the meeting of the council. Social hour begins at 6:30 with dinner at 7:30 p.m.

Behr Tosses His Hat In Supervisor Ring

Peter Behr, attorney and former Mill Valley city councilman, formally announced today his candidacy for county supervisor in the special Third District recall election Dec. 5.

Behr said "responsible and representative government must be restored to the Third District and to Marin County." He said an important factor in his decision was a necessity to restore to the voters the right to express themselves before the supervisors, "a right the incumbent J. Walter Blair has consistently ignored."

"My campaign," he said, "will emphasize the need for sound fiscal measures rather than playing politics with the county budget for a 'yo-yo' tax cut. I will also campaign for efficient administration in county affairs to assure us that our tax dollars are giving us the most value for our money."

Behr added that Blair "appears unaware of his constituents' deep-rooted determination to maintain unique scenic beauty and its present character."

He pledged unequivocal stands on all issues, said he had no intention of indulging in "any low-level campaign tactics," and while seeking competent advisors "will refuse to hire professional political advice on how to win friends and influence voters."

Behr has lived in Mill Valley since 1949, serving on the city council from 1956 to 1960 when he declined to stand for reelection. During this time he was a member of the Mill Valley City Planning Commission for 2½ years. He is a member of the advisory committee of the Point Reyes National Seashore Foundation and a past president of the Mill Valley Commuters Club.

Nuclear Protest

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — Three Indonesian students paraded outside the Soviet Embassy today protesting the Soviet nuclear tests. Police arrested the three for demonstrating without permission.

Firm Takes Steps Toward Smog Control Compliance

Reasonable steps toward compliance on smog control are being taken by the Henry Hess Lumber Co. of San Rafael, Benjamin Linsky, control officer for the Bay Area Pollution Control District, said today.

Linsky talked yesterday with Charles T. Lund, manager of the company, and today received a letter confirming a schedule of intended steps to abate the past nuisance from use of a sawdust burner.

Action of some sort is expected by Oct. 16, Lund told Linsky, though there is still question of whether it will be best to construct a special storage bin for haulaway of sawdust, chips and blocks with disposal by others, or controlled burning in an approved furnace.

The company is at 629 Third Street and capital improvement problems are added by probability that it must move ultimately due to Highway 101 widening.

Youth Semi-Finalist In Scholarship Exam

Leslie Martus of 10 Meadow Drive, Mill Valley, a student of Marin Catholic High School, has won status as a semi-finalist in the seventh annual National Merit Scholarship Competition as a result of qualifying examination given last March.

Another examination is due Dec. 2 and finalists then chosen will be eligible for scholarship awards.

Congress Adjourns On An Angry Note

fiscal year which began July 1 includes 8.6 billion dollars in interest on the national debt. Not included in the total is a fiscal 1961 supplemental appropriation.

Congress will reconvene Jan. 10 unless a crisis forces Kennedy to call it back sooner.

Kennedy's major victories came relatively early in the session and involved measures which Democrats had tried unsuccessfully to get through in the Eisenhower years.

They included:

An increase in the minimum wage to $1.25 an hour by 1963.

A depressed areas bill carrying 394 million dollars in federal loan and grant funds to try to help bring new jobs to communities with high, persistent unemployment.

A Social Security measure lowering the retirement age for men to 62, boosting the minimum monthly check from $33 to $40, and raising widow's benefits 10 per cent.

A 5.6-billion-dollar housing bill setting up a new program for middle income families.

A 600-million-dollar Latin American aid program.

A 225-million-dollar extension of the federal aid to airports program.

A two-year extension of the Civil Rights Commission.

A highway bill authorizing an additional 11.5 billion dollars to complete the 41,000-mile interstate system by 1972 as originally scheduled, and levying the taxes to pay for it.

Two new organizations urged by the president, a Peace Corps and a disarmament agency, were enacted into law in the closing days of the session.

Chief casualties in Kennedy's program were:

A 2.55-billion-dollar aid bill for public grade and high schools.

Three other education bills —aid for colleges, aid for medical education, and a broadening of the National Defense Education Act.

A broad tax revision program containing incentives to business modernization and removing various benefits now in present law.

A health care program for the 16 million persons over 65 handled largely under the Social Security System.

A farm proposal authorizing producers to write their own programs under guidance of the secretary of agriculture and subject to a congressional veto.

A postal rate increase boosting the letter stamp from 4 to 5 cents and raising other rates.

Establishment of a Cabinet department of urban affairs.

Psychologist For Larkspur Schools Hired

Larkspur School District trustees last night approved hiring Harold Simpson, graduate of San Francisco State College, as part-time psychologist.

Simpson, who received his master's degree from Fresno State College, will be employed by the Larkspur district two days a week. The other three days, he will be employed by the county schools office, if approval is given by the county board of education at its next meeting.

The Larkspur trustees granted use of Henry C. Hall School multi-purpose room on Saturdays to the Larkspur-Corte Madera dance cooperative for $5 a Saturday.

The board set for Oct. 11 at 7:30 p.m. "back to schools night."

Supt. Vaughn D. Seidel reported enrollment has increased by 10 since school began. The enrollment totals 1,777.

The board approved the district's mandatory life insurance for school children. The cost for the insurance, based on the present number of school children, will be $54 per year.

Sausalito Waterfront Plan Plea Is Heard

A plea for a protected place for youngsters to learn to sail in small boats was made at a public hearing on the Sausalito Central Waterfront Plan last night before the Sausalito City Council.

John E. Koenig Jr., chairman of the Sausalito Yacht Club's committee on the plan and former city councilman, said there is need for such a location for children, "even 6 and 7-year-olds, to learn boat handling."

The club's proposal for a breakwater to parallel the east side of the sandspit would provide such a harbor. He said the city might pay for the bulkhead by installing 75 boat berths along it. The bulkhead could be a walkway. Koenig suggested, too, a compromise in the waterfront area to provide park and parking.

The Central Waterfront Plan, presented to the council more than a year ago by a committee of more than 20 citizens, recommends location of civic buildings, circulation and park and parking.

After discussion, the hearing was continued to a special meeting Oct. 10.

Russell Papenhausen, president of the Sausalito Chamber of Commerce, said the chamber favors more parking in the area. "We're short of 500 parking spaces in the downtown area now," he declared.

He said a large park would create an additional traffic jam. He showed the chamber's plan in a drawing which illustrated a boardwalk, a small park "twice the size of Vina Del Mar Plaza" and a small yacht harbor.

Paul Micou, chairman of the planning commission, said park and parking must both be provided and can be with "proper study and professional help."

He said the planners approve, in principle, the concept of park and plaza as a major attraction in the area and the concept of encouraging a maximum amount of parking close to the plaza.

Former Ross Couple Wed For 50 Years

Mr. and Mrs. W. I. McCoy, parents of Harold A. McCoy of 115 Tassel Court, Sleepy Hollow, celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary in Sebastopol on Sept. 24.

The couple lived in Ross from 1950 to 1956 before moving to Sebastopol. He is a retired lumberman.

Novato Park, Recreation Unit Gains

No protest was heard last night as the Novato City Council gave first reading to an ordinance setting up a parks and recreation commission.

The ordinance is a compromise of differing views presented in preliminary discussions of the city council and the Novato citizens' planning committee. Major difference developed between advocates of an area-wide district that would ignore city lines and those who held Novato must restrict its activities, and membership on the commission, to the city itself. This was compromised by providing for a seven-member commission, two members of which could be from outside the city.

The Novato City Council last night also:

1. Created an assessment district for Sutter Hills Unit 1, a subdivision of 30 lots, and set for Oct. 24 public hearing on the final map of the subdivision.

2. Approved rezoning from residential to commercial of an area on Grant Avenue between Highway 101 and the Crocker-Anglo Bank, requested by John Pedranzini.

3. Approved an 11,000-square-foot building for Andrew Talbot at Fifth Street and Grant Avenue. The planning commission had recommended a slightly smaller building because there were two less than the required number of parking places. The council was told that two lots to the rear would also be used for parking.

4. Gave consent for Smith-Hanna Blackpoint Co. to proceed with plans for the Smith-Hanna Industrial Park assessment district.

5. Authorized City Administrator J. Julien Baget to be the official city representative in civil defense meetings. Police Chief Roy C. McLaren was named second in charge of civil defense.

6. Called for bids to be opened at 8 p.m. Oct. 10 for an eight-cylinder car for city use which will be a stand-by police car.

7. Set a public hearing Oct. 10 on transferring the license of the Novato Cab Co. to William Warden, who purchased the company from Consuelo Le Cam.

8. Set for Oct. 10 hearing on an appeal by Jack and Beatrice Caristi for an 18-unit apartment house opposite Novato Hospital on Hill Road, which was denied by the Novato Planning Commission on Aug. 28.

Planner To Discuss Plans For San Rafael

County Planning Director Mary Summers will discuss plans for San Rafael at a meeting of the San Rafael Meadows Improvement Assn. at Oliver Hartzell School at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow.

County Supervisor Walter R. Castro is scheduled to lead a group discussion on county flood control.

Terrorist Attacks

ALGIERS (AP)—European extremists staged 318 terrorist attacks in the first half of September, say semi-official reports.

Sausalito Orders Illegal Pilings Out

The Sausalito City Council last night decided to crack down on Robert H. Hall of Corte Madera, who drove 22 pilings in Marinship waters two weeks ago, some after a stop-work order had been issued by the city.

Hall was ordered to: (1) Remove all pilings in the so-called navigational easement in two weeks; (2.) Remove any other unnecessary pilings, probably six, as determined by the city; (3.) Remove the balance of the 22 pilings if a use permit is not granted within 90 days for him to install a yacht harbor, and (4.) post bond to cover removal.

The council also voted a stop-work order to Hall and revoked his demolition permit pending the posting of $2,000 bond.

Hall drove the pilings in water leased from Kurt Heath to tie up a barge, and remove old ways to prepare for a yacht harbor.

Shirley Morgan owner of Clipper Yacht Co. told the council that the normal way to remove ways is not by placing pilings but by using anchors.

Charles W. Pierce, representing Hall, said that under the demolition permit Hall has the right to leave the pilings where they are.

The council heard complaints from Stuart Rose that the city was taking too long to process his use permit for a beer garden in Village Fair as well as his request to develop upper floor of the building. "There is no liaison between city manager, planning commissioner and city council," charged Rose. City Manager Charles A. Brown said Rose's requests likely would be on the agenda for the next city council meeting.

The council also:

1. Adopted an interim zoning ordinance for one year and referred it to the state attorney general to check its validity on a request to do this by the Sausalito Chamber of Commerce.

2. Turned down a request from the chamber of commerce to reconsider its denial of a permit for Ellis Lando to expand his Marinship venetian blind factory.

4. Appointed councilmen George Keeney and Michael Harris as a committee to talk with applicants for the job of part-time planning consultant.

5. Adopted an ordinance establishing the salary of city clerk at $2 a year, to become effective in April 1964.

6. Asked City Engineer John L. Hunter to give Kurt Heath facts on grading and drainage in Marinship to allow Heath to get on with his shopping center development.

Proposed Apartments Won't Be Subdivision After All

The proposed Terrace Apartments in Marin Bay won't be a subdivision after all.

Developer Sherrill Brady of Santa Barbara last night presented a new proposal for the "condominium" apartments to the San Rafael Planning Commission. Under it, purchasers of apartments in the 16-unit, one-story development will receive title only to the space they occupy not to the land beneath it.

Brady had sought to get approval in principle of the condominium apartment proposal, and approval of a tentative map, at last week's meeting of the San Rafael City Council. When it was brought out that the proposal called for each buyer to get title to the land beneath his apartment, councilmen and City Atty. A. E. Bagshaw objected this would create a subdivision with lots far smaller than the required minimum.

Last night, Brady and engineer Daniel Coleman presented a revised plan, under which the land would be held in joint ownership by all those buying the apartments. The planning commission approved the new proposal.

The apartment is called a condominium because each buyer gets title to his apartment and appears as owner on the tax rolls. Cooperative apartment buildings, of which there are several in Marin, are owned jointly by all those who buy apartments in them.

The planning commission refused to reconsider its turndown of a 42-foot high apartment building in East San Rafael, requested by San Rafael Newport Co., the developer. The 105-unit building is planned by Kaehler and Farrar on Canal Street north of Medway Road. A vaulted roof makes the added height necessary, the planners were told; but they stuck to the city requirement of 34-foot height limit.

The San Rafael Planning Commission also:

1. Approved a two-lot subdivision at 128 Palm Avenue, requested by Coldwell, Banker and Co., subject to approval by the city engineer.

2. Asked the city planner for a plan for a survey of the city's parking problem.

3. Granted architectural approval of P. J. Tarrant's plans for a four-unit apartment building on Lincoln Avenue.

4. Granted Bruce Wolper a use permit for a duplex on Elizabeth Way.

5. Approved a tentative map for units 18 and 19 of Terra Linda, submitted by Alameda Homes Corp.

6. Postponed for two weeks consideration of a tentative map for a Loch Lomond development by Robert McCarthy Co.

7. At the applicant's request, dropped Robert Praetzel's application for permission for a rubbish dump.

8. Set public hearings on amendment of the appeal provision of the architectural control section of the zoning ordinance for Oct. 10 and Oct. 24.

9. Granted Fay Hancock permission to operate a curtain and drapery making business in the basement of her residence at 230 D Street.

10. Granted Richfield Oil Corp. architectural approval for a service station at Irwin and Dubois streets.

11. Denied D and W Auto Parts permission to use a lot on the north side of Mill Street for storage of wrecked autos.

12. Granted Homer Rickards permission for a warehouse on Jordan Street near Lovell Avenue provided he plants two strips of landscaping.

13. Set public hearings for Oct. 10 and 24 on R. D. Lang's request for rezoning from single-family dwelling to commercial of property at Greenfield Avenue and Miracle Mile, and on Ralph Peterson's request for multiple zoning of the 300 block of Glen Park Avenue.

GOP Congressmen Speaking Date Set

James Tufts of Kentfield will be chairman of a discussion by four Republican congressmen at the Corte Madera Recreation Center at 8 p.m. Oct. 8.

Those to speak will be Mel Laird of Wisconsin, chairman, Steve Derounian of New York, Peter Frelinghuysen of New Jersey and Bob Michaels of Illinois. The affair is under auspices of the Marin County Republican Central Committee and volunteer party organizations.

San Rafael Planners Hear Shelter Request

Is a fallout shelter just that, or is it supplementary housing?

This was the bomb exploded at last night's meeting of the San Rafael Planning Commission when Ben Brown, owner of Pyramid Plywood Co., submitted petitions to be allowed to set up two model fallout shelters in front of his business place at 660 Irwin Street, one above-ground and the other beneath it.

The planning commissioners approved the above - ground model only — and that with some trepidation.

To businessman Brown, the request seemed a reasonable one, there being an increasing market for such equipment—not to mention the public service involved in providing survival apparatus.

To the planning commissioners the problem was not so simple—there being no provision for bomb shelters in any local ordinance.

There is no way to guarantee that once a shelter has been installed, it may not at some future time be used for housing, planning commissioners objected.

They put the above-ground shelter under the heading of a galvanized iron structure and gave Brown a use permit to display it for six months only.

New Building Is Approved In Larkspur

Plans for a new California State Automobile Assn. district office building in Larkspur received architectural approval last night from the Larkspur Planning Comimssion.

The building will take the place of the present district office at 1114 Fifth Avenue in San Rafael. Architects for the project are Crawford and Banning of San Rafael.

The location will be at 565 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard. Call for bids to contractors will start tomorrow, with work possibly starting in about three weeks, said architect George V. Banning today.

Completion is hoped for April 1, 1962, Banning said.

The committee examining the city's business district informed the planners a report calling for an amendment to the zoning ordinance will be submitted at the next regular meeting of the commission, Oct. 10.

Manny Charnow In Car Smashup

The troubles of Manny Charnow, Marin County's "Mr. Senior Citizen," were compounded yesterday when he suffered a broken rib, concussion, gashed scalp and cuts on both knees in an automobile accident.

Charnow, 77, of 162 Belvedere Street, San Rafael, was injured when his car collided with that of Roy Kenneth Neighbor, 20, of 364 Cascade Drive, Fairfax, at Irwin Street and Francisco Boulevard in San Rafael. Both were treated at San Rafael General Hospital. Neighbor suffered a cut forehead and bruised hand.

Charnow was retrieving his automobile from a garage where damage caused by vandals pouring dirt in the gasoline tank had been repaired.

Officer Charged With Being Drunk

James Joseph O'Connor, 26, a San Quentin Prison correctional officer, was arrested for drunk and disorderly conduct last night in San Rafael.

Milton Martin, manager of Foster Freeze Drive-In at 1908 Fourth Street, said O'Connor threatened him and his wife, who was working behind the counter.

O'Connor was held today in lieu of $132 bail and was to appear in court this afternoon.

O'Connor, of 855 Francisco Boulevard, San Rafael, has been employed at the prison for less than a year, San Quentin officials said.

Water-Lily Buds Call At Lake Shore

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP) — Early one morning, two Des Moines women were walking along the shore of a lake when they heard strange little sounds that kept on and on.

They insist that their own investigation brought the answer: The water-lily buds were opening.

MARIN FIRE CALLS

YESTERDAY:

6:53 p.m., Ross—Small grass fire attributed to dumping of ashes at Shady Lane and Locust Avenue. No damage.

TODAY:

Midnight, Mount Tamalpais — Six-room house and three-room caretakers cottages, at 244 Panoramic Highway, plus two acres of redwood trees destroyed by fire. Bad wiring in caretaker's bedroom believed cause. Put out by county, Homestead and Mill Valley Radar Station firemen. Damage $27,300.

7 Doctors Added To Hospital Staff

Seven doctors were added to the associate staff of Marin General Hospital last night by the hospital board of directors.

They are: Dr. Robert Norman Chase of San Rafael, plastic surgeon; Dr. Margaret S. Filante of San Rafael, head of the physical medicine department at Marin General; Dr. William J. Filante of San Rafael, ophthalmologist; Dr. Gordon P. Flagg of San Rafael, anesthetist; Dr. Philip Gordon Huffman of Sausalito, general practitioner; Thomas E. McCormick of San Rafael, general practitioner, and Dr. Jack William Stage of San Rafael, internal medicine specialist.

Dr. Willis C. Schaupp of San Francisco was added to the courtesy staff in surgery.

Novato Council Turns Deaf Ear To Appeal From Community Club

The Novato City Council last night turned a deaf ear to pleas by the president of Novato Community, Inc., for negotiations on use of the Novato Community Clubhouse.

The club president, John Sorensen, told the council he had laid aside his personal feelings to appear before it on behalf of the club. He said the club's directors seek to negotiate rather than appeal a court ruling by Judge Joseph G. Wilson that the clubhouse must be turned over to the city, as its original by-laws provided for such turnover if Novato ever incorporated.

Sorensen proposed as bases for negotiation:

1. Continued use of the name Novato Community Club should belong to the club.

2. The club should have use of an upstairs apartment, now occupied by the caretaker, rent-free for three years for an office.

3. The club should have use of the hall, rent-free, 28 nights per year.

After presenting the proposal, Sorensen suggested the dispute over the clubhouse could have been solved by mutual agreement without going to court.

"We were ready to talk before litigation," shot back Councilman John J. Angeloni.

"That's a matter for discussion," countered Sorensen.

Mayor Wayne Womack's gavel stopped the exchange.

Sorensen asked to be able to give a special meeting of the club's directors tomorrow night some indication of the council's willingness to negotiate. (The meeting had been scheduled for tonight but wa spostponed.)

City Atty. Clark M. Palmer Jr. said there was no hurry. He noted Judge Wilson had merely rendered his opinion and had not yet filed a judgment in the case.

The Interior Department intends to preserve an 88-mile section of Padre Island, Texas, in its natural state.

Sausalito Fills Two Vacancies

Two appointments were made by the Sausalito City Council last night, one to the planning commission and one to the library board.

Mel Wax, a San Francisco newspaperman, was appointed to the planning commission to fill a long-standing vacancy. He lives at 25 Glen Drive.

Dr. Thomas J. Mannell of 41 Miller Avenue was appointed as library trustee. He is head resident in medicine at Fort Miley Veterans Hospital in San Francisco.

The availability of aerospace scientists and engineers can be doubled in the next 10 years if science education receives adequate financial support, according to a study released by the National Science Foundation.

False Teeth Fail To Prove Point

DENISON, Tex. (UPI)—A teller at the drive-in window of a Denison bank was astounded. He figured the guy in the car outside was trying to put the bite on the bank.

The man was a stranger, and he wanted to cash a check. The only identification he offered, when asked, was to take his false teeth out and show the name imprinted on the plate.

"I'm sorry," the teller said. "But I have to have something with your signature, and I'm afraid that won't be enough."

Later, the teller did some probing in dental circles and found that during the war soldiers with false teeth had their names and serial numbers put on plates to serve as identification in case they were lost, or the owner should be killed.

Research paints a mighty handsome portrait of you in Marin

You and your family cut such a statistical figure you'll be the envy of most every county in the U.S. (We're dealing with averages here, caught by the keen eye of a major research organization*. But what averages! Anywhere else they'd be "highs").

Income for instance: "you" averaged the highest taxable earnings of any breadwinners in any county in California—$9,781. You're a real breadwinner, but you need to be, for "your" family in Marin averages 3.5 members, compared to 3.1 for the state. You support 1½ cars, too; and you're among the 80% of families who own their own homes (Twelve per cent even have boats).

Mostly you're well on the flattering side of 50—2 out of 3 heads of households. You're young, up-and-coming or have arrived. If you're a professional man, executive, manager or owner, don't be surprised—2 out of 5 are, in Marin. To be expected, though, since 57% of Marin's breadwinners attended college (a figure we doubt any other county in the nation can equal).

This means you're pretty sophisticated in tastes. You buy a lot—swimming pools to Picasso prints. But what you buy is good. And you tend to buy more and more in Marin. All your food, 51% of your major appliances, 43% of your furniture, 54% of your new cars.

And where does "daddy" work? San Francisco? Surprise again. Mainly in Marin—42% here, 39% in The City. All because our Marin-economy is expanding, opening new opportunities. But it's not all work for you. You love to entertain at home—an average of 3 times per month. You even go out to dinner at a restaurant 2.1 times per month. And fasten your seat belt: you and the family take 1.22 plane trips each year!

That's your portrait, statistically speaking. And we might add, as part of it, that you've made the I-J a part of daily living in 70 to 80 per cent of homes in the urbanized area, in 68% of all homes in Marin. In fact, that's why we undertook this research . . . to see how we might better serve you.

Drunk Driver Gets Fine Of $386

Hallett Lothair Sevison, 52, of 4144 Paradise Drive, Tiburon, drew a stiff $386 fine yesterday in Marin Municipal Court for drunken driving.

Judge Leonard A. Thomas also put Sevison on one year probation. Sevison was caught on Tiburon Highway last July 29. He had two prior convictions, in 1942 and 1953, but these were stricken from the record.

Curriculum Group Gets Instructions

Fourteen of the 15 members of the San Rafael Curriculum Study Committee were on hand last night to hear president Roderick P. Martinelli of the board of education charge the committee with its responsibilities and name H. David Sokoloff as temporary chairman.

Sokoloff will convene the committee's first session in the board of education office at 8 p.m. next Wednesday. The committee will meet on the first Wednesday and third Monday of each month.

Martinelli said he would have a representative "from one of the state universities" who has had experience with curriculum study committees present at next week's session to help the committee get started.

Sole absentee for the initial meeting, which preceded the regular meeting of the board of education, was Max Thelen Jr. He missed a plane in Los Angeles.

The curriculum committee's meetings must be open to the public, Martinelli told the members.

Its first task, he said, will be to "ascertain the community interests" as to what should be taught in San Rafael schools. He said the board would like a report on that by Christmas, and sooner if possible.

After that, the committee should go into specific problems and scrutinize present courses offered in the schools to suggest which should be changed or abolished, as well as what courses should be added, he said. "We hope for specific recommendations by next June," he told the 14. There may be both majority and minority reports, he stressed.

The board of education will approve hiring of outside consultants to help the committee if the cost is not deemed excessive, he assured the members.

Ralph K. Hansen, director of curriculum for San Rafael High School District, was named temporary secretary. The committee will choose permanent officers and lay down "ground rules" at its meeting next Wednesday.

Brown Blasts Birchers Before Bar

MONTEREY (UPI) — Gov. Edmund G. Brown today called on California lawyers to counteract 'the big lie and the big smear" of the John Birch Society.

Brown warned members of the Hastings College Alumni Assn. meeting at the state bar convention here that the extremely right wing society threatens the nation's constitutional form of government.

"The Birch society employs the whole ugly arsenal of slander and vilification," Brown said. "It opposes all respect for the democratic process — all respect for the independence and integrity of the judicial system of the United States."

Brown said that the society's attacks on former President Dwight Eisenhower, Chief Justice Earl Warren and others would be recognized by most as "ridiculous." But the attacks, he said, might also "harbor the germ of a more serious transgression" against the principles of the nation's founders.

Portable Classrooms Are Planned

Portable classrooms at San Pedro School next fall, and a new school in Glenwood a year later, are planned by the San Rafael Board of Education.

The board last night discussed (although it was not publicly read) a letter from the Glenwood Homeowners' Assn. calling for immediate action to provide a school in that far-east part of San Rafael. There are now 149 children from Glenwood attending San Pedro School in Loch Lomond, the letter said. By next January, the number is expected to be 178; by next September, 209, and by September, 1963, it is expected to reach 281. The figures are based on homes now under construciton or in prospect in Glenwood and Marin Bay.

Board member Rex Silvernale urged building an addition to San Pedro School as "the only possibility for 1962."

Board member John M. Bagshaw suggested use of portable classrooms. Board member C. Paul Bettini pointed to the possibility of overbuilding at San Pedro, since many children now attending that school will go to the Glenwood School when it is built. The elementary school district already owns a site in Glenwood.

Acting Supt. Raymond J. Simpson said reliable predictions on growth in the area are not yet available, but should be shortly from studies under way for the planning commission.

"We're probably looking at portables next September and Glenwood School a year from September," said president Roderick P. Martinelli. Silvernale, Bagshaw and Bettini agreed. Board member Bella Aaron was absent.

There is no money remaining in the elementary school district's bond fund, Simpson said. The board hopes to buy portables, and build Glenwood School, from money to be received from sale of the E Street School property next year.

Also at last night's board of education meeting:

1. The board received a third $1,500 check from the Marin County Assn. of Insurance Agents, completing a three-year project of contributing a similar amount each year for purchase of equipment for teaching driver training.

2. The San Rafael Teachers Assn. notified the board it will hold salary committee meetings on Oct. 18 and Nov. 1 at 8 p.m. in the high school cafeteria. Bagshaw was appointed to represent the board at the meetings.

3. Martinelli said he had been informed by Counyt Counsel E. Warren McGuire that necessary legal documents for completing the Terra Linda High School pool under terms of an arbitration board's recommendations should be ready by the next meeting.

4. Bids on construction of the Terra Linda High School music building and assembly court were called for opening at 7:30 p.m. on Oct. 24.

5. The board discussed setting a more specific policy on contracting with Marin County firms for small projects on the basis of bids, after complaints by some local contractors that they were not given the chance to bid on some recent grading projects. Acting Superintendent Simpson promised to prepare a policy statement.

6. Simpson presented a list of some 30 projects needing attention —nine of them "immediately." These included school site studies, income analysis, E Street School sale, a survey to establish building needs, etc. He was urged to find out immediately what assistance might be obtained through intern programs of University of California and Stanford University.

7. The board rejected a request for a daytime adult school sewing class, which would have to be held off-campus as there is no room at either high school. "We ought to confine our adult classes to our school buildings and to night hours," said Bettini.

8. Bill Andrewsen and Bill Drummond, San Rafael High School seniors, were introduced as the high school student body's representatives delegated to attend school board meetings. They'll be there from now on, said young Andrewsen.

9. Three teachers were hired: Marvin Lundwall, mathematics, science and English, Terra Linda High School; Lonne Baldwin, mathematics and science, San Rafael High, and Mrs. Jean Martincich, English, Terra Linda High. Resignation of Alberta Sills as English teacher at Terra Linda High was accepted.

10. The acting superintendent announced hiring of Mrs. Hazel Harris as clerk at Hartzell School; Varl Ball as janitor at San Rafael High; Mrs. Eugenie Gunn as clerk at Davidson; Mrs. Dorothy Grew as clerk in the business office, and William Meyer as head custodian at San Rafael High. Wallace Hucabee, a student at San Francisco Theological Seminary, resigned as janitor at Davidson.

Notary Issued

SACRAMENTO (CNS) Secretary of State Frank M. Jordan today announced issuance of a notary public commission to Norma E. De La Rosa, 1314 Lincoln Avenue, San Rafael.

Roger Maris Eager For 61st Home Run Of Season

No. 60 Gives Yank Slugger Big Thrill

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Now for No. 61.

Roger Maris, who hit his 60th homer last night as the New York Yankees beat Baltimore 3-2, has four games remaining in which to get the home run that will make him the most productive one-season homer hammerer in major league baseball history.

He'll get his first shot at No. 61 today against the Orioles' Steve Barber (17-12). Then he takes a day off tomorrow before resuming his efforts to surpass Babe Ruth's 60-homer total of 1927 with a three-game set against Boston that closes out the 162-game schedule.

No. 60 for Maris was a high arching shot off a 2-2 pitch by Baltimore right-hander Jack Fisher in the third inning. It came four games too late to qualify for an official tie with Ruth's 34-year-old record under the 154-decision limit set by Commissioner Ford Frick. The game was the Yanks 159th, including one tie.

After grounding a single to center in the first inning, Maris fouled off the first two pitches by Fisher in the third, took two balls, then fouled one into the dirt before connecting with a drive that shot into the upper right field stands, about three feet fair.

"It's the greatest thing that has happened to me," said Maris after the game, "probably the greatest thing that ever will happen to me. Now that I've got it, I'd like to get one more, just one more."

Maris' homer was the Yanks first run off Fisher (10-13), who led 2-0 going into the third, but lost the game on Johnny Blanchard's run-producing single in the sixth and an error by outfielder Jackie Brandt in the seventh that let in the clincher following singles by Billy Gardiner and Tom Tresh.

In other A.L. games, Kansas City beat Detroit 8-5, Cleveland defeated Minnesota 7-3, Washington nipped Los Angeles 3-2 and Chicago and Boston split. The White Sox won the first 7-5. The Red Sox came back to take the nightcap by the same score.

Rocky Colavito hit homer No. 44 for the Tigers.

GOOD THING ROG WASN'T LISTENING

NEW YORK (UPI) — It's a good thing Roger Maris didn't pay any attention to a Chicago Cubs' scout when he had a tryout with the National League team in 1952.

"We don't think you'll make it in baseball, kid," the scout advised Marin after a workout at Wrigley Field in Chicago. "Why don't you go into some other kind of work."

Fortunately for Maris — and the New York Yankees — the blond-haired young man from Fargo, N. D., chose to ignore the advice.

Billy O'Dell Hurls Tonight For Giants

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Southpaw Billy O'Dell (6-5) pitches for the San Francisco Giants tonight with just one more victory required to make this the Giants' best season since leaving New York.

The Pirates, who eliminated Los Angeles from the pennant race last night, will use right-hander Tom Sturdivant (5-2).

The Giants go into tonight's game with 83 victories, 66 losses and five games left to play. The best season the Giants have had in San Francisco was 1959 when they won 83 under Manager Bill Rigney.

Alvin Dark seems a cinch to beat that in his first year as the Giant skipper.

Orlando Cepeda, with 45 home runs and 140 runs knocked in, takes a seven-game hitting streak into the game tonight.

49ers Spring Surprises In Big Shakeup

MILWAUKEE (AP) — There were three surprised men on the San Francisco 49er squad yesterday when the news got out that speedster Ray Norton had been placed on waivers, fullback J. W. Lockett had been traded to Dallas, and defensive star Abe Woodson would be switched to offense.

"It was kind of shocking," said Norton in low tones. "I just thought I had a good chance to make it."

OFF FOR TEXAS

Lockett, who departed for Texas almost immediately, expressed another kind of surprise—and somewhat shocked his questioners.

"I'm even more surprised I lasted this long," confided the 230-pound Lockett, who came to the 49ers as a free agent and drew the starting fullback assignment in the first two National Football League games this season.

Woodson admitted that he was more pleased than surprised.

"I guess I'll have to train my leg muscles all over again—to go forward instead of backward," said Woodson, who has played three seasons on defense for the 49ers.

ABE JOSHES

"How can you forget my great 60-yard gallop against Detroit in 1958?" Woodson asked reporters, breaking out into a big smile. "So what if it was all sideways. I still gained a yard."

Coach Red Hickey said Norton and Lockett were cut to make room for Bill Cooper and Jim Johnson, both of whom have been on the injured list.

"The object is to give us more striking power from both our tight backs," said Hickey, explaining his decisions.

"We've been getting great running from J. D. Smith but we need another barrel. We think Abe (Woodson) will give it to us once he makes the adjustment."

Raiders Hold High Hopes For Victory

OAKLAND (AP) — Oakland's Raiders figure they will get their first win of the season when they take on Denver's Broncos in Candlestick Park Sunday.

And Coach Marty Feldman agrees.

He has been working on his defensive team and expressed pleasure yesterday with the improvement the players have shown in tackling and pass defense.

TRIPUCKA FEARED

Feldman is paying particular attention to pass defense because the Broncos' Frank Tripucka is one of the passingest quarterbacks in the American Football League. Tripucka threw 54 times against the New York Titans last week.

While Feldman was working on improvements on the field, Raider management was working to improve attendance.

FAMILY PLAN

Only about 5,000 attended the first "home" game last Sunday at Candlestick Park in San Francisco.

A family plan that will allow four children to attend free with an adult who purchases a $2.50 ticket was announced. The plan will go into effect Sunday and continue for the rest of the season.

Machen Rates Second On Heavy List

NEW YORK (AP) — Eddie Machen of Portland, Ore., has replaced Britain's Henry Cooper as the No. 2 heavyweight contender in the new Ring Magazine boxing ratings released today.

Machen moved up from the third spot while Cooper was dropped from second to third. Ring editor Nat Fleischer made the shift because of Machen's impressive knockout of Mike DeJohn of Syracuse, N. Y., and Cooper's idleness. Sonny Liston of Philadelphia is ranked first contended by Ring.

Cooper is ranked first by the National Boxing Assn., which dropped Liston out of the ratings because of his suspension by Pennsylvania.

The monthly ratings show two new No. 1 contenders in other divisions. Rafiu King of Nigeria was made the leading challenger in the featherweight division following his knockout of European champion Gracieux Lamperti of France. The Frenchman, who had been No. 1, was demoted to second.

Carlos Ortiz of New York was promoted tho No. 1 in the lightweight class for his victory over Doug Vaillant of Cuba. Dave Charnley of England was moved down from first to second.

Willatt defeated Pierce Powers and Dick Adams and Mrs. Patten defeated Betty Allen and Pat Bilger.

The matches were refereed by the club's new tennis pro, Bill Kennedy. Information regarding Kennedy's tennis lessons may be secured by calling the club.

Jockey Grounded

SAN MATEO (UPI)—Algerian-born jockey Emil Ohayon, 26, was suspended for the remainder of the Bay Meadows fall meeting yesterday for "gross negligence" which resulted in injuries to two other riders.

Reds Nail Down Pennant, Await Series And Yanks

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

"Reds si, Yankees no."

That was the main theme as the long-frustrated Cincinnati citizenry celebrated the Reds' first National League pennant in 21 years with a rash of superlatives for their heroes and a deep bow in the direction of Pittsburgh pitcher Joe Gibbon.

The Reds beat the Chicago Cubs 6-3 in a day game yesterday earning a tie for the N.L. flag, then had to wait for Gibbon to get the actual clinching job done by eliminating the second-place Los Angeles Dodgers with a one-hitter.

That victory, an 8-0 shutout after the Dodgers had remained in contention with a 5-3 victory in the first game of a twi-night doubleheader, sent the Reds into the World Series against the American League champion New York Yankees.

BROSNAN WINS

To ace reliever Jim Brosnan (10-3) went the honor of nailing down Cincinnati's long-awaited pennant. Brosnan set the Cubs down on one hit over the final three innings. Jerry Lynch provided the winning runs with a two-run homer in the eighth that snapped a 3-3 tie.

At Pittsburgh, the Dodgers hung on by winning the opener behind Stan Williams (14-12) with a five-run second inning outburst against Bob Friend (14-19). Jim Gilliam's bases-loaded triple was the key blow.

That was the Dodgers last chance. Gibbon completely subdued them in the nightcap, allowing only a leadoff sixth inning pinch-hit single by Bob Aspromonte.

DRYSDALE CHASED

The Pirates won it in the third, chasing Don Drysdale (12-10) with a five-run splurge after two were out.

In the only other N.L. game, Milwaukee beat St. Louis 9-2. Joe Adcock's three-run homer in the first inning off Ray Sadecki (14-10) gave Lew Burdette (16-10) a cushion he never relinquished.

Foreign Stars Bow In Berkeley Tennis

BERKELEY (UPI) — The 72nd annual Pacific Coast Tennis Championship was up for grabs today with two of the top-ranked players already on the sidelines.

Barry Basking of Pacific Grove upset first-seeded Mike Sangster of England, 6-3, 7-5, yesterday in first round action while Gene Ward of San Francisco ousted third-ranked Bob Mark of Australia, 12-10, 6-1, in another stunner.

A HOT TIME—It was a hot time in Cincinnati last night as the city celebrated their Reds' clinching of the 1961 National League pennant. In top photo thousands of wildly cheering fans jammed Cincinnati's Fountain Square, locking in the bus which carried the team from the airport. In lower photo, Cincy suburbanite Don Bauman got mock sympathy from a tear wiper and derision from other Reds fans as he sat in a local bar and admitted by his sign that he had backed the rival Los Angeles Dodgers.

Cincinnati Celebrates End Of Pennant Drouth

CINCINNATI (AP)—It will be a long time before Cincinnatians forget the night the Reds won the National League pennant.

Downtown Fountain Square was crowded—so crowded it was hard to walk. Everbody seemed happy. Many were drinking beer as they wandered around. Others were yelling, as loudly and as often as they wanted to. Cars went past the square, horns blaring.

There were plenty of policemen around. But this was the baseball fans' night, so the men in uniform just looked on. They were having a good time too.

"Sounds like a glass factory, doesn't it?" said one of them to no one in particular as people streamed by, their shoes crushing the beer bottles in the gutter.

And, when the yell went up that someone was climbing the three-stories high fountain, the police looked, shook their heads and grinned.

After 21 years, the Reds had won the pennant.

Walt Alston Tips His Cap To Redlegs

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) —Dodger Manager Walt Alston saw it in the books several weeks back.

"We didn't lose it tonight. We lost it a month ago."

That's how Alston summed up the situation last night in Pittsburgh when the Dodgers dropped out of pennant contention by virtue of an 8-0 loss to the Pirates in the second game of a twi-night twinbill.

In tipping his peaked cap to the National League champion Cincinnati Reds, Alston said, "You gotta give 'em credit for the way they won it in a tough league."

Asked what he thought of the Reds' chances against the Yankees in the World Series, Alston said he was "a National League man" and 'I'll have to pick the Reds again."

Stanford Coach Warns Of Foe

STANFORD (AP) — Stanford Coach Jack Curtice told his squad yesterday that Oregon State will be one of the toughest teams they will face all year.

Curtice drilled the Indians on defensing Oregon State plays. Garry Sargent, a starter against Tulane last week, was sidelined with the flu and tackle Frank Atkinson reported a high fever after practice.

MARIS AND MRS. RUTH

A happy Roger Maris kissed Mrs. Clare Ruth when they met after last night's game in Yankee Stadium in New York. Between them they hold ball which Maris hit in the third inning of the game with Baltimore for his 60th home run of the season. Mrs. Ruth, widow of the late Babe who holds the record of 60 home runs in a 154-game season, congratulated Maris on becoming the second man in big league history to belt 60 homers in a single season. Marin Athlete Is Big Man In Canada

A former Marin Catholic High and Ongaro Plumber Semi Pro baseball star has come back from a season in a Canadian semi-professional league with a pile of laurels.

John Boccabella, San Anselmo resident and a junior at the University of Santa Clara, was picked for the all-star team of the Western Canada League by that country's sports writers, coaches and sportscasters. He was only one of three players to be chosen unanimously.

Boccabella also placed second in the league's batting race with a .340 average, he drove in the season's most runs, 63, and was second in the league with 19 doubles.

And if that wasn't enough, Boccabella played for the Saskatoon Commodores who won the league championship by 15½ games, and led in hitting and fielding.

JOHN BOCCABELLA

The Canadian league is of the same caliber as "B" classification baseball in the United States.

Six Marin Sports Cars Are Home From Reno Races With Cups

Three Marin resident's sports cars grabbed second spots and three others placed in the first annual Reno Road Races at Stead Air Force Base in Nevada last weekend.

Strother Jones of San Anselmo, screamed across for the number two trophy in his Lotus 18 in the Formula Junior contest at the Lions Club benefit, 12 miles north of Reno. Jones is president of the Racing Drivers Club of Northern California.

Also gaining a second place was Frank Morrill of San Anselmo driving his MGA Mk. II in the fifth race's class F production. A Lotus Mk. XI, owned by Miss Prudence Baxter of Sausalito was second in race four, class G modified. A San Francisco driver was at the wheel.

A third place laurel was knocked off by Sandy Greenbalt of Novato, driving his A. C. Bristol in race three, class C production. Greenbalt was challenging the leader, but blew a spark plug and had to take to the pits. He subsequently was pushed to sixth spot but moved out ot eventually get the checkered flag on its third wave. Charlie Kuhn of Novato finished third behind Morrill in his class F race. Kuhn drove a Porsche.

A fifth place was secured by Charles Worlund of San Anselmo. He drove his Sprite in the fifth race, class G production.

Tomales High Opens Grid Slate Saturday

Tomales High School will make its 1961 football debut Saturday night against St. Vincent's High at Petaluma.

The Braves head coach Milton Castleberry said today that the opener's outcome is a toss up. He said the only disadvantage he believed St. Vincent's would have is that they have been practicing longer this season and have already played one game.

"They rate an edge because of this," said Castleberry, "but we should do well baring the unexpected or a morale collapse."

The coach feels the Braves, representing a 190 member student body in northwest Marin, have better prospects for the over-all season this year than last.

"After all, we were in the cellar last year. . . . It's not too much to ask for something better," Castleberry joked. Last year's record of two ties and four losses could be attributed largely from injuries.

This year an assistant coach has been added and six first string lettermen have returned. The team's running game may have improved, but the Tomales team lost its best receivers via graduation.

The new assistant coach is Howard McGlove, a graduate of Cal Poly and a physical education teacher at Tomales. Castleberry, who has been Tomales mentor for the past five years on a solo basis, is gratified that both the line and backfield can be coached simultaneously during practice this year.

The returning veterans make up the entire backfield and two slots on the line. One of the team's most promising players is fullback Bill Delinay. Castleberry described the 150-pound senior as having a lot of desire and being a hard runner. Also good prospects are guards John Philipsheck and Rich Aman. The latter is a letterman. Both look "generally strong on both offense and defense," declared the coach.

Tomales will also be counting on tailback George Bianchi running ability if the outside blocking is not too weak. It will be Bianchi's first shot at organized ball. Starting at tailback Saturday, however, will be Bob Fairbanks. All the mentioned players, but Bianchi, will be in the first unit against St. Vincent's, along with wingback Marvin Wallin, blocking back Pat Arndt, center Don Crayne, veteran tackle Alfred Petroni, tackle Charles Purtle, and ends Bob Marcussen and Don Russell.

Tomales will work this year off a single wing formation. While the team has strong passers, the Braves threat in that specialty is doubtful because of the slowness and inexperience of new ends. Last year the majority of the Brave TDs came via air.

Regardless of this season's outcome for Tomales one thing is certain: Castleberry will aim the Braves toward his philosophy of high school football.

"My concept? How we play is what counts—if hard nosed football is played, regardless of the score, I am content," says coach Castleberry. The Tomales coach added, however, that when this kind of ball is played it much of the time ends up in a victory.

Here is the Braves' 1961 schedule: Sept. 30, St. Vincent's at Petaluma, 8 p.m.; Oct. 5, Petaluma J.V. at home, 3:30 p.m.; Oct. 13 at Calistoga, 6 p.m.; Oct. 20, St. Helena, at home, 3:30 p.m.; Oct. 25, Kelseyville at home, 1 p.m.; Nov. 4 at Clearlake, 1 p.m.; Nov. 10, Cloverdale, at home, 3:30 p.m.

Hunters' Course Opens Oct. 10

Registration for the National Rifle Assn. hunter safety course will be held at 7 p.m. Oct. 3 at 60 Stevens Court, Fairfax, for a course which commences Oct. 10 at the same address.

The course is under direction of George Finney of San Anselmo, Gus Scheuermann of Fairfax and Fritz Pfeffer of San Geronimo and is open to boys and girls 12 to 19 years of age. A fee is charged to cover use of guns, ammunition and targets. Further information may be obtained by getting in touch with Finney at 97 Florence Ave.

4 Marin Drivers Enter Grand Prix At Laguna Seca

A quartet of Marin County drivers are among the early entries for the Pacific Grand Prix sports car racing weekend scheduled for Laguna Seca, Monterey, on Oct. 21 and 22.

Heading the contingent are two drivers from San Anselmo, Strother Jones of 275 Van Winkle Drive, and Michael Worlund of 113 Van Winkle Drive.

Jones will see double service in the speed festival, driving his Lotus Mark XX Formula Junior in Saturday's amateur event, then coming back Sunday to compete against some of the world's top junior drivers in California's biggest professional race for the European one-seat cars.

Warlund, Charles Kuhn of 510 Alameda de la Loma, Novato, and John Vander Male of Wolfback Ridge, Sausalito, will compete only in Saturday's amateur championship events.

The Marin County speedsters will pilot an Austin Healey, Porsche and MG respectively.

If You're Numbered Among Has Beens, It's Nice To Fraternize Oldtimers

CONNOLLY

It's nice to fraternize with an oldtimer. And it helps a lot if you are numbered among the has-beens. I found myself in that position a few days ago when I looked up and heard the voice of "Jolly Cholly" Grimm of the Chicago Cubs barking:

"Move over," he said as he snuggled into a none too wide press box chair. "I gotta go over a few things with you and I think you're the only guy in the press box who was around at the time."

So from the 1932 earthquake in Los Angeles until the present, the former National League player, manager, scout and broadcaster cut up touches. He revealed among other things that Warren Brown, an oldtime SF baseball writer, was no longer doing baseball but a news column; that Bob Lewis, former travelling secretary for the Cubs, no longer travels with the team but is just sitting and waiting in the upstairs portion of the Wrigley Field clubhouse in Chicago.

"Bob," related Cholly, "had a break in health a few years ago and lives now in the shadow of the grandstand he loved and served so well."

Grimm related he had seen Paul Waner who broke in with the Pirates at Paso Robles Hot Springs camp in 1925.

"PAUL IS ABOUT one quarter of your size and looks older," Grimm stated. "We cut you up a few times."

In the couse of our fanning bee, Grimm revealed why P. K. Wrigley never would allow night baseball to be played in Chicago.

"The neighbors, the churches and a couple of city ordinances stopped him. And besides he thinks baseball should be played in the daytime," Grimm said by way of further explaining the situation.

IN TELLING why Wrigley wanted to keep five or six managers on the staff, Jolly Charley says:

"It is one way of keeping up with the young players. We have four or five of them now we wouldn't have taken a look at until the end of the season," says Grimm.

"But each one of our managers think so and so in such and such a league is good enough for a whirl and we call 'em up and give them the old college try. That is how we learned Kindel was a great shortstop prospect. A lot of other young fellows are getting the same once over as Kindel. And I think it eventually will pay big dividends to Mr. Wrigley."

Grimm recalled very accurately the day Paul Waner and Joe Cronin showed up at the Pirates' camp in 1925.

"SCOUT JOE DEVINE sang the praises of them both so much we oldsters were agog when we found out he was right," said Grimm.

Both Waner and Cronin today are in the Hall of fame so it truly was a great occasion for recalling their beginning in the sport that made them famous.

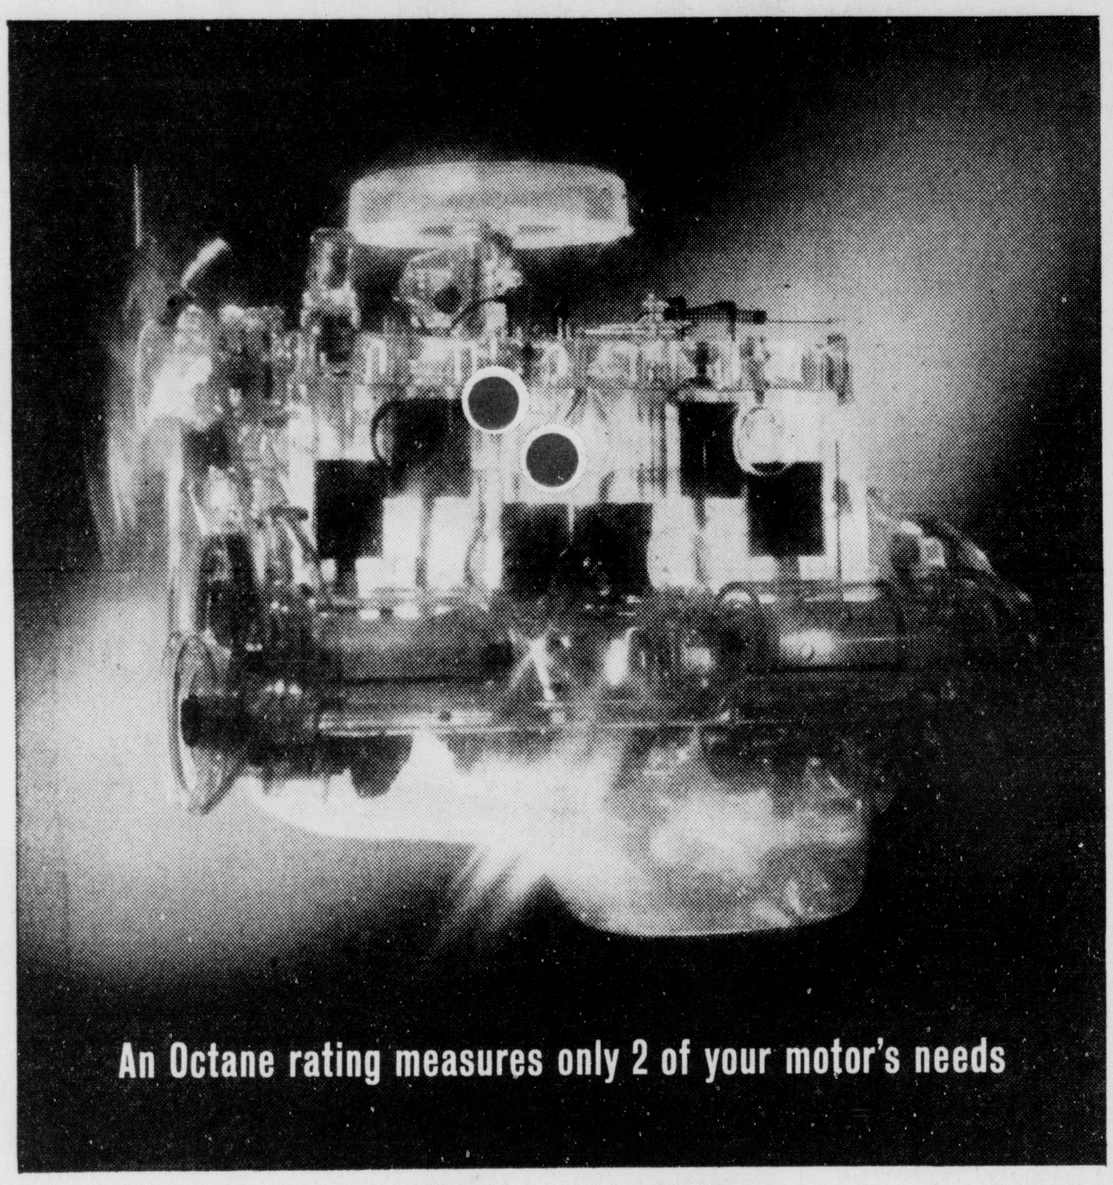
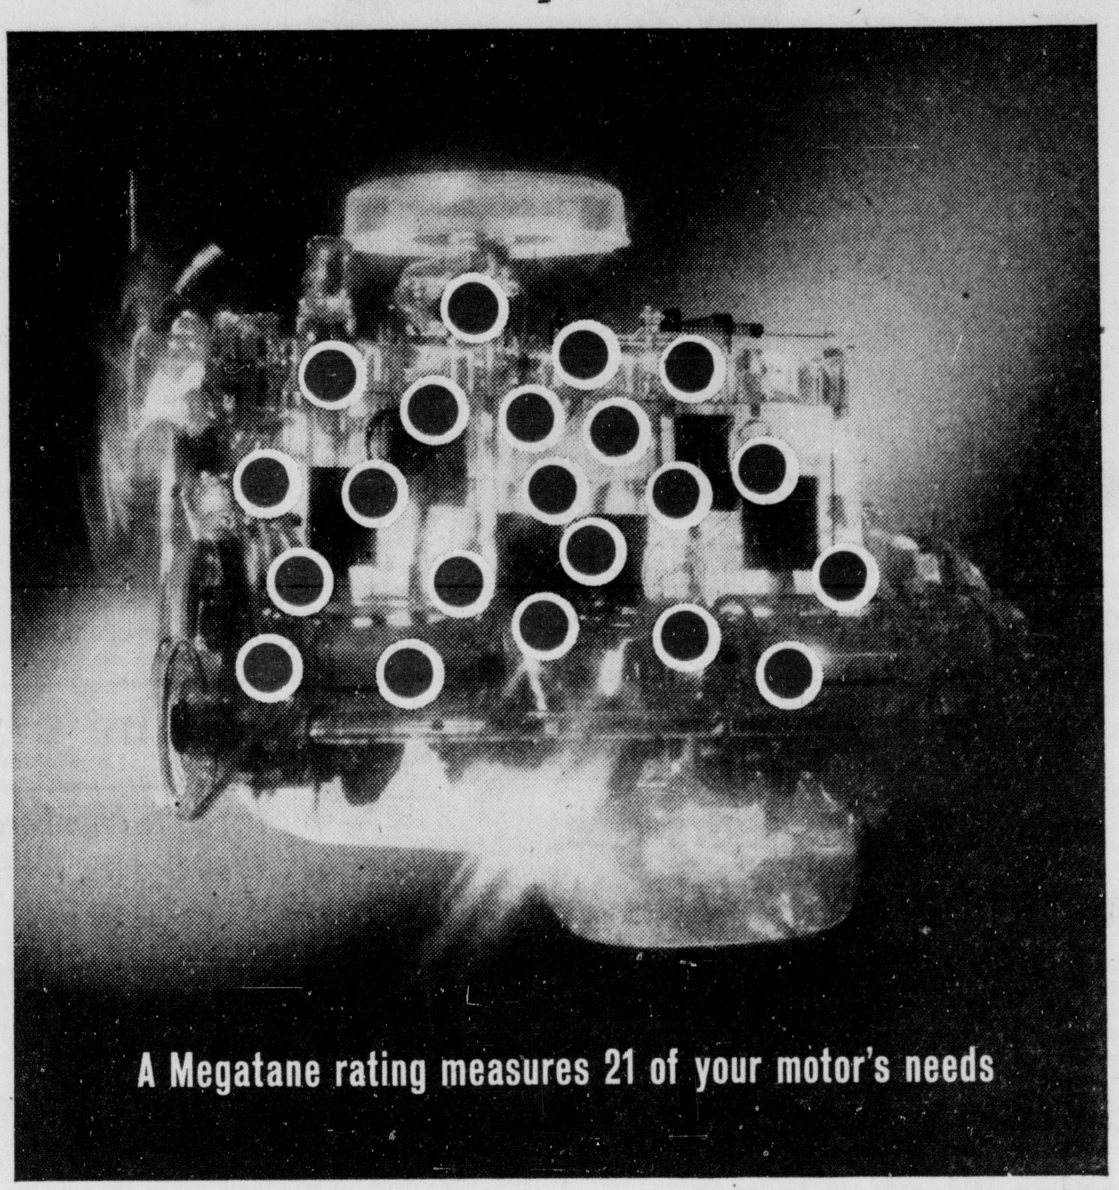
ARE YOU MAKING THE OCTANE MISTAKE?

Important News For Every Car Owner Who Wants A Healthier Motor 5,000, 10,000, 20,000 Miles From Now!





The higher the Megatane rating the better your motor will run... and now brings you the highest Megatane rating of any leading gasoline!

Mobil

Now for the first time you can choose gasoline realistically rated to make your car run stronger, last longer, keep younger!

The Octane Mistake. Yes, Octane rating measures only 2 of the things your car needs in a gasoline . . . 2 very important qualities dealing with anti-knock. The result is that many people make the Octane Mistake . . . buy gasoline high in Octane but lacking in many of the other brilliant advances made by science. These advances can truly give you a cleaner motor, quicker starting, less stalling, more mileage and power.

Megatane measures total performance. Recognizing this Octane Mistake, Mobil engineers now measure and express gasoline quality in a rating system which enables you to judge not just Octane but the total performance of your gasoline.

This new rating system is called Megatane. It includes Octane, of course, but goes far beyond Octane to measure not just 2, but all 21, of the qualities that Mobil engineers believe should be found in today's ideal gasoline.*

Mobil gets highest Megatane ratings. Of course, the ideal Megatane rating of 21 has not yet been achieved by anyone . . . not even Mobil. But when you drive into your Mobil station, you will find new Mobil Premium that rates higher on the Megatane scale (19 out of 21) than any leading Premium. New Mobil Regular, with 16 out of 21, rates higher than any leading Regular gasoline.

At first, the difference may not be apparent to you. Your car will probably not leap like a gazelle from a standing start. But never forget this: Five, ten, twenty thousand miles from now, your motor will know the difference . . . in more mileage, less loss of power, less harmful deposits, easier starting, longer prime of life. For the higher the Megatane rating, the better your motor will run!

For details about the Megatane rating system, visit your Mobil dealer.

CHAIRMAN of the United Crusade business division in San Anselmo, Mrs. Clyde J. Curley Jr., is a rare combination of cook, career woman and crusader. Mrs. Clyde Curley Champion As Career Woman, Cook, Crusader

Mrs. Clyde J. Curley Jr. is a champion of the three C's. She is a rare combination of cook, career woman, and, currently, crusader.

Her career is in real estate in San Anselmo. She is chairman for the second year in a row of the United Crusade business division in San Anselmo, third largest city of Marin.

This means seeing clients, attending meetings and contacting fellow workers in the United Crusade. On a typical day she may also write out a couple of favorite recipes for a client or friend.

Because of her busy days, Mrs. Curley specializes in dinners that take only a short time to prepare after she gets home from the office. This takes some planning and organizing, and, says Mrs. Curley, it helps to have a reliable butcher, as she has.

Mrs. Curley likes to experiment, and one of the results is Flank Steak Pinwheels, which she developed in cooperation with her butcher. They require only 10 minutes under the broiler and are rated "delicious" by her family and friends.

Here is the recipe, with a suggested menu for family meal or dinner party. The dinner takes only half an hour to prepare and costs under $10 for eight persons.

Flank Steak Pinwheels
Baked Potatoes with Sour Cream and Chives
Spinach Balls
Pineapple Chunk Cole Slaw
Fresh Fruit Compote

FLANK STEAK PINWHEELS

Ask your butcher to place strips of bacon lengthwise on two large flank steaks. Roll each steak tightly and cut crosswise into 1¼-inch pieces, or pinwheels. Secure each with a small wooden skewer. Brush with your favorite barbecue sauce and broil five minutes on each side.

BAKED POTATOES WITH SOUR CREAM AND CHIVES

Split potatoes lengthwise and bake open side up to make crispy tops. Split centers and place on each a dab of sour cream mixed with chives.

SPINACH BALLS

Cook frozen chopped spinach and use a collander to press out water. Using a round spoon, make spinach balls and drop into hot butter for a minute or two. Onion salt may be used for seasoning. If desired, mix spinach with grated Ricotto cheese (about half a pound) before making the balls. Serve hot.

PINEAPPLE CHUNK COLE SLAW

1 No. 2 can pineapple chunks
4 cups shredded cabbage

Combine for dressing:

½ cup mayonnaise
¼ cup syrup drained from pineapple
½ tsp. salt
2 tsp. prepared mustard
1 tsp. grated onion
Dash cayenne pepper

Mix shredded cabbage and pineapple chunks, pour the dressing over this and blend thoroughly.

Here are more of Mrs. Curley's favorite recipes.

HALIBUT FLORENTINE

1 pkg. (1 lb.) frozen halibut fillets
2 green onions, finely chopped
½ cup white wine
2 egg yolks
4 oz. cooked spinach, finely chopped
2 lemons (juice)
½ cup grated Parmesan cheese
½ cup thick cream sauce (1½ tbsp. butter, 1½ tbsp. flour, ½ cup milk, ¼ tsp. salt, dash of pepper)

Place the halibut fillets in a shallow casserole, cover with water, add wine and lemon juice, and boil five minutes.

In a saucepan place the thick cream sauce, any broth from the boiled fillets, the spinach and onion, salt and pepper to taste.

After this sauce has been brought to a boil, remove in from the fire and stir in the two egg yolks. Pour it over the fillets, sprinkle with grated cheese and bake in a 400 degree oven until golden brown, about 15 minutes.

Sweet Tooth

Women far outnumber men as candy buyers, says the Candy, Chocolate and Confectionery Institute. Women account for the sales of 74.5 per cent of all chocolates sold, 81.9 per cent of non-chocolate items and 75.7 per cent of all candy bars.

Cream Sauce Adds Glamour To Chicken

A wonderful creamy sauce transforms the most prosaic chicken into a luxurious dish with very little effort. Witness the effect it has on this broiled chicken which is usually served plain and unadorned.

Even if your attempts at making cream sauce heretofore have been decidedly unspectacular, you can stop worrying. This sauce is failure-proof because it is made with versatile mushroom soup mix.

You simply stir milk into the mushroom soup mix and heat to the boiling point. A touch of Sauterne, which is optional, and a sprinkling of chopped fresh parsley add the gourmet accent. This basic recipe for cream sauce is ideal for many other dishes, too. Keep several packages of mushroom soup mix on your pantry shelf for cooking use as well as for the soup course.

BROILED CHICKEN WITH CREAMY SAUCE

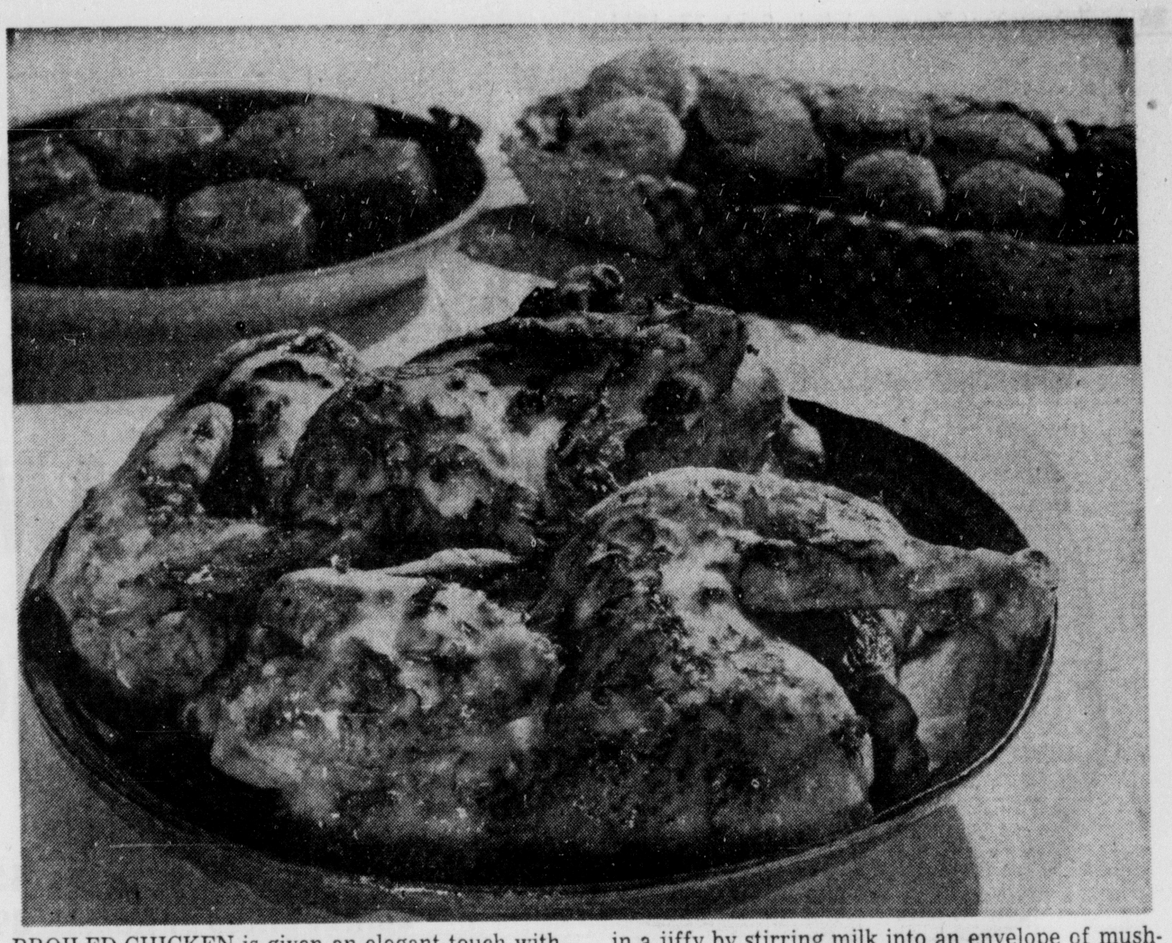
2 2-lb. ready-to-cook broiler chickens, halved
Salt
Pepper
3 Tablespoons butter or margarine, melted
3 cloves garlic
1 envelope mushroom soup mix
2¼ cups milk
2 tablespoons Sauterne (optional)
2 tablespoons chopped parsley

Prepare chicken halves for broiling by seasoning with salt and pepper and brushing with melted butter or margarine. Lay flat on broiler pan, skin sides down and place unpeeled garlic in the cavities. Broil for 25-30 minutes until both sides are nicely browned and the meat is tender.

For the sauce, slowly stir milk into soup mix; heat to boiling, stirring constantly. Add Sauterne and parsley; serve over chicken halves. Makes 4 servings.

Hot Potato

French fries a la Mexico are made with frozen French fries, heated according to package directions. After heating, sprinkle with chili powder and onion salt. Toss gently to coat.



BROILED CHICKEN is given an elegant touch with rich creamy sauce. This failure-proof sauce is made in a jiffy by stirring milk into an envelope of mushroom soup mix and heating to the boiling point.

Wine Tasting Set Tonight

More than 400 San Rafael area residents are expected to be members of a tasting panel sampling six new wines tonight under the auspices of the Gourmet Society of America.

A major vintner will seek opinions on four new private stock table wines and two dessert wines planned to sell at under a dollar. Area residents will be asked to judge the quality of the wines and will be asked their comparative preferences.

The tasting will be at Dominic's Harbor Restaurant from 5:30-7:30 p.m. Guests have been invited from selected areas of San Rafael and its environs, as well as from business, professional and civic groups.

Many of those attending plan to make the tasting the start of an evening out and will be joining other panelists for dinner.

Cinnamon Pear Rolls For Your Snacktime Addicts

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

IF THE SNACKTIME addicts around your house enjoy home-baked cinnamon rolls with their coffee, tea or milk, the chances are they'll go for this new version of the venerable yeast-risen bun.

The good butter, sugar, cinnamon and raisins in the filling of these new cinnamon rolls have fresh pears added, and the recipe fills two nine-inch layer-cake pans. When we tried the recipe in my kitchen, one batch got eaten speedily. The other batch went into our freezer; it's comforting to know it's there all ready to take out Sunday when guests are coming to brunch. We like the rolls warm; if you agree, reheat them.

CINNAMON PEAR ROLLS

¼ cup very warm (105 to 115 degrees) water
1 package active dry yeast
¾ cup milk (scalded and cooled to lukewarm)
¾ cup sugar
½ teaspoon salt
1 egg (slightly beaten)
¾ cup butter or margarine (soft)
3½ cups flour
2 large firm Bartlett pears
2 teaspoons cinnamon
½ cup raisins (rinsed in hot water and drained)

In a mixing bowl, stir together water and yeast until yeast is dissolved. Stir in milk, ¼ cup of the sugar, salt, egg, ¼ cup of the butter and about half of the flour. Beat vigorously until dough is smooth. Add remaining flour and work with hands to make a firm but not stiff dough. If necessary, add a little more flour. Turn out on floured board and knead until smooth. Place in a bowl; cover with a damp cloth; let rise in a warm (80 to 85 degrees) until double in bulk — about 1½ hours. Roll into an 18 by 12 inch rectangle; spread with the remaining ½ cup butter. Core pears; grate coarsely; mix with remaining ½ cup sugar, cinnamon and raisins; spoon over butter-spread dough; roll up as for a jelly roll. Cut into 18 one-inch slices and arrange in two greased round cake pans (each 9 by 1¾ inches). Bake in a moderate (375 degrees) oven 25 to 30 minutes or until golden-brown. Turn out and serve warm with butter.

Mrs. Edwin Long Being Feted At Sausalito Bon Voyage Event

By FLORENCE DONNELLY

On Sunday Mrs. Edwin Long of Sausalito will leave for travel in Europe and visits with relatives and friends. A number of parties are being given in her honor. One of these was hosted by Dr. and Mrs. Clayton Mote of Sausalito last night.

Betty Long is flying to London where she will be met by her brother-in-law and sister, Dr. and Mrs. Norman Grist of Glasgow, Scotland. She has hopes of meeting the Earll Rileys of San Rafael, who've been touring Europe. Betty will tour the continent before she returns to the British Isles. Then she will visit her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Angus McAlister of Pollokshields, a suburb of Glasgow, and an uncle and aunt, the Hugh Macnabbs, who live on the Isle of Arran, in Firth of Clyde, where Betty's father was born. She'll visit other relatives, too, before flying to Madrid the end of November. She'll stay with the William Tysons, formerly of Belvedere, who, with their three children, now live in the Spanish capital.

From Madrid Betty will fly to New York. She'll take in the shows and shop there and then go on to see Mr. and Mrs. Lucien Perona, former Sausalitans, who live in Bernardsville, N.J. and the Donald Maxsons, another former Sausalito couple, whose home is in Mystic, Conn. Betty will be home by Christmas—in fact she's already arranged for the catering service for the dinner.

More than a hundred women, many of them outstanding golfers of their clubs, will compete in the biennial invitational tournament at the Meadow Club tomorrow and Friday. The Women's Golf Section of the Meadow Club is the hostess club. Each one is inviting a guest and many of these will be houseguests. There will be visitors from Monterey Peninsula, Presidio, Orinda, Sequoyah, California, Lakeside, Castlewood and Marin clubs. Grand finale of the two-day event will be the awards luncheon on Friday. Greeting guests will be Mrs. Eugene Ostaggi, captain of the Meadow Club golfers and Mrs. Raymond Luce, general chairman, who is being assisted by Mesdames Newton Longfellow, Arthur Latno, Harry Hensler, Joseh Billings, William Milliken, Walter Jakobsen, J. S. Harrison, Elmer Hubbell and Lewis Kerlin.

Golfing Friends and bridge players of the Meadow Club comprised the guest list, for the most part, for Mrs. Paul Spengler's luncheon today at Bob's of Marin. Celia Spengler is president of Ross General Hospital Volunteers, who cosponsored today's luncheon and fashion show with Alpha Omicron Pi Alumnae.

Seated at Celia Spengler's table were Mesdames Frank Paganini, LeRoy Page, Shell Griffin, Lawrence Garrett, Elbert Brown, Samuel Dutart, Harry Pharis, Ray Johnson, Norman Ackley, Thomas Fairey, Floyd Spence, J. B. Tulley, Lloyd Grandi, Robert Walker, Leonard Jacobi, Elmer Hubbell, Jack Cooper, R. L. Hibbett, John Rademann, Josh Billings, Carl Boegerhausen, Lewis Kerlin, Edward Campion, Rinaldo Belli, Gordon Wood, D. B. Johnson, Harry Transue, A. L. Stewart, Hale Hunter and Mel Duncan.

Down Under is the goal of the George Brittons of Kent Woodlands who are leaving on a month's vacation trip Friday. They are flying to New Zealand, Australia, Hong Kong, Tokyo and coming back by way of Seattle. In New Zealand and Australia they'll rent automobiles for tours of the island countries.

ENROLLED in the Samuel Merritt Hospital School of Nursing, Oakland, is Judith Mahon, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Edmund Mahon of Mill Valley. Judy is one of 64 freshman students.

At home to friends in Montclair, Oakland, are the newly married Mr. and Mrs. Raoul Leland Edmonds. She is the former Mrs. Shone (Dolly) Hollingsworth of Marin. The couple was married Sept. 2 in Carson City, Nevada and honeymooned at Lake Tahoe.

FOR THE FIRST time in 40 years Roy Miller of San Rafael is visiting in his home city, Des Moines, Iowa. He and his wife will be away a month and go from Iowa to Wisconsin.

ROUND TABLE TOMORROW

The event to get underway at 2 p.m. will be held at Dominic's Harbor Restaurant in San Rafael.

This is the redecorated state dining room in the White House, opened to tourists for the first time yesterday. Under First Lady Jacqueline Kennedy's direction, the room now has a gold and white appearance. The center chandelier and wall sconces, originally silver plated, have been guilded. The walls, formerly Williamsburg green, are now antique white. Twenty gold upholstered chairs ring the oval mahogany table. A portrait of Abraham Lincoln by George P. A. Keep Those Blooms Bright All Year

Fall chrysanthemums and even the last rose of summer in the garden do not need to disappear with frost.

Their vivid coloring may be preserved for use in the home with material obtained from a chemist or chemical supply dealer.

An enterprising mother, Mrs. Dorothea Thompson of Chapel Hill, N.C., registrar for the University of North Carolina School of Nursing, found a way to dry the flowers so you can have them in your home all winter, perhaps longer.

"I had tried cornmeal and borax methods, but these often left the flowers shriveled. Why not try silica gel, the same chemical that keeps potato chips and cereals dry, I thought. So I did," she says.

SOME FLOWERS BETTER

A dedicated flower show judge, gardener and flower arranger, she has been using the process successfully for five years.

She mixes 5 pounds of 28-200 mesh silica gel, (white, it is the consistency of table salt) with one-quarter pound of tell-tale 6-16 mesh silica gel (larger blue crystals.) It's the blue chemicals, she says, that tells when maximum water is absorbed. The crystals turn pink at that point.

"Some flowers dry better than others. Zinnias, marigolds, lilies of the valley, roses and larkspur are good driers. Other flowers such as daffodils and the Easter lily dry well but must be protected later. Too much humidity will cause them to absorb moisture."

She kept an orchid beautiful for about two years, she says, but normally she dries only flowers from her own garden.

"I have a modest garden, but in fall I make up a nice bouquet of dried flowers and keep it until next spring when the garden flowers bloom again. If one doesn't have a garden, flowers from the florist serve the same purpose," she says.

Roses dry in four days. Single petal flowers like black-eyed Susans will dry in two or three days.

Mrs. Thompson worked with her husband, an electrical engineer, and Dr. William Moore, a Durham chemist, in developing the method.

THE THOMPSON WAY

Here's how you do it:

Use a round fruit cake tin or similar container. Pour about 2 inches of the mixture into the tin. Insert short-stemmed (2 inch) flowers and leaves if desired, face up. Space them so they won't touch. Cover the flowers with additional silica gel until completely covered. Cover the tin and seal with masking tape. Put the box away for about a week. Pour the mixture off gently, and blow away particles that adhere to flowers or dust carefully with an artist's brush.

FOR LONGER STEMS

She makes longer stems for the flowers by inserting florists' wire into the stems and fastening it with tape. She stores dried flowers and foliage in big gallon-size wide-mouthed glass jars that may be obtained from restaurants, she says. She puts three tablespoons of the blue silica gel in each jar, and keeps it in a dark closet until she is ready to use them.

After flowers dry and the blue silica gel turns pink, put it in a large open pan and place it in a 250 degree oven for about 30 minutes until crystals turn blue again. The chemical is then ready for re-use.

CUTTING THE CAKE at the reception which followed their recent wedding in Alexander Hall of the San Francisco Theological Seminary at San Anselmo are Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Joel Cooper. The bride, the former Carolyn Sue Walden, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernst A. Kulps of San Anselmo. (Gabel photo)

Carolyn Walden, Stephen Cooper Wed At Seminary

Alexander Hall at the San Francisco Theological Seminary was the setting when Carolyn Sue Walden of San Anselmo became the bride of Stephen Joel Cooper of Kentfield Sept. 3.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernst A. Kulps of San Anselmo.

Officiating for the double ring ceremony was the Hon. Joseph Wilson of San Rafael. Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white lace and net.

Sharon Walden was her sister's maid of honor and Sharon Hueg and Jeanne Davis were her bridesmaids. Their street length dresses were of light blue chiffon lined in a blue, lavender, and white print.

Paul Cooper of South San Francisco was his brother's best man. Ed Hilario of Oakland, and Doug Sarlin of Mill Valley were the ushers.

The reception was held following the ceremony in Alexander Hall and in the adjoining garden.

What About Radio Or TV Noise During Study Hours?

What can I do about radio and television interference with study hours — is a frequent query asked by parents and teachers. Some answers proposed by Mrs. G. D. Edwards, chairman of the mass media communications committee of California Congress of Parents and Teachers are:

1. Parents accept responsibility to provide a home schedule which allows time for meals, study, and sleep without television or radio interference.

2. Parents watch and discuss programs with children in order to guide their selection.

3. Exercise self-discipline in setting good examples for viewing habits of children and youth.

4. Write or telephone commendations and/or criticisms to local stations, channels, networks and sponsors (the local station or channel will forward your message to the proper department or person).

Five suggestions to parents as to what to do about motion pictures were also made by the committee:

1. Be discriminating in the choice of family film entertainment. (Refer to reviews in Parent-Teacher magazines.)

2. Help your children become selective of good movies by family discussion of the films before and after viewing.

3. Attend movies with your children.

4. Write the producer. It is as important to commend good movies as to protest objectionable ones.

5. Avoid over exposure to motion pictures at the expense of other activities.

Mother's Ridicule Taunts Teen-Age Daughter's Love

(Q) "I hurt my daughter's feelings by calling her crush on a boy 'puppy love.' She is 14. The boy is 15. They've gone steady only one month. She believes their love will last forever. Isn't she a little young for this?" S.M.

(A) No. Many girls of 14 have violent crushes. They are inexperienced so they have no way to distinguish between puppy love and the real thing. Later they'll learn and become better judges. Please be patient with your girl. Try not to be sarcastic. Listen when she talks and help her when she and her boy friend break up. She'll need your support badly then.

(Q) "My son played varsity football last year. His grade average dropped. This fall he decided not to go out for the team. His coach is furious. Unfortunately the coach teaches my son's gym class. He threatens to give him an 'F.' He makes wisecracks about the boy being a slacker. He calls him 'chicken.' My son has no way to defend himself. Is it right for a coach to put such pressure on a boy?" L.M.

(A) It is not right. However I have at least a little sympathy for the coach. Most folks demand a winning team. He feels he must get the best players, regardless. You should defend your son. Go to the principal. Tell him what is happening. Probably he'll help. If he doesn't, carry the problem to the Superintendent of Schools, and the Board of Education. Try to get your boy transferred to another gym class. If things get too thick, ask about moving him to another school.

Patterns From Cloth Next Step Forward For Home Sewers

By JEAN SPRAIN WILSON
AP Fashion Writer

If Hughette Krem's dreams come true, most of America's home sewers will some day be wearing dress patterns on their backs.

Tired of transferring markings, annoyed at the rips and tears in tissue patterns as she tried fitting them, and weary of cutting out separate dress linings, this onetime fashion designer decided to make her patterns out of cloth.

In her home in Miami Mrs. Krem silk screened the pattern pieces of two yards of batiste 45 inches wide, with each piece properly placed to conserve material. She also screen-printed instructions on each piece in three languages — English, French and Spanish.

Now when her cloth pattern is pinned to the same sized dress fabric, both can be cut and sewn at the same time. And the pattern automatically becomes the lining of the dress.

FOR AMATEUR

Or when an amateur is in doubt about the pattern fit, she can cut out the cloth pieces of Mrs. Krem's patterns, pin or baste them together, slip into the rough dress and make adjustments. Then she can rip it apart, cut it accordingly, and sew up the dress fabric without costly mistakes.

Mrs. Krem went into business cautiously, offering just a few patterns to a Florida department store on consignment. But the avalanche of orders that resulted encouraged her husband Louis, a former fight manager, to join the company. Now the Krems have hired more help and have gone into the cloth pattern business on a national scale.

Impatient seamstresses particularly like her patterns, she finds, because the batiste firmly controls slithery materials like jersey under the sewing machine needle. Sewing the pattern with sheer fabrics keeps even organdies and nylons from puckering or tearing out along the seams.

Mrs. Krem's cloth patterns cost almost twice as much as the most expensive paper patterns. However, the seamstress gets a good quality, pre-shrunken lining cheaper than she can by buying the material separately, she argues. And the amateur probably saves money by the mistakes she doesn't make.

STOCK LIMITED

At present her stock is limited to classic designs for sheath dresses, capri pants, shorts and skirts.

But then Mrs. Krem, who was once associated with sportswear designer Tina Leser, has plenty of design ideas which she expects to see someday on the backs of smartly dressed American women — particularly the teen-agers.

New U.S. Disarm Head Served GOP And Demos

By U. P. INTERNATIONAL

William C. Foster, named by President John F. Kennedy yesterday to head the new U.S. disarmament program, is a successful Republican businessman who has never let his party affiliation stand in the way of serving Democratic administrations.

The 64-year-old Foster was head of the Economic Cooperation Administration in 1950-51 and in the last months of the Democratic administration of former President Harry S. Truman he served as an assistant secretary of defense.

For the past several months, Foster has taken time out from his duties as chairman of the board of Aerospace Corp. and president and chairman of the United Nuclear Corp. to work with U.S. chief disarmament negotiator John J. McCloy in drafting the disarmament plan presented to the United Nations.

Foster was born April 18, 1897, at Westfield, N.J., and was educated at Massachusetts Institute of Technology. He was a World War I pilot in the Army Air Corps.

He founded his own business in 1920, the Pressed and Welded Steel Products Co. of Long Island City, N. Y.

During World War II, he held a number of civilian posts, including, from 1943-1946, special representative of the secretary of war on aircraft procurement.

Foster is an old friend and associate of W. Averill Harriman. When Harriman was secretary of commerce, he brought Foster into government to serve as his under secretary from 1946-1948. From 1948 to 1950 he was deputy administrator, ECA, and in 1950-1951, ECA administrator.

Although he is a Republican, most of his government service has been under Democrats, except for 1958 when he headed the U.S. delegation to the Geneva conference on surprise attacks.

Married to the former Beulah Robinson in 1925, Foster has one son, Seymour Robinson Foster. He and his wife make their home in Washington.

U.S. Negro Girl Enters Russ School

MOSCOW (AP)—Huldah Clark, a Negro girl from Newark, N.J., whose father says "I'd rather send my daughter to Moscow than to Mississippi," has entered a Soviet boarding school.

Educational authorities, in disclosing this, refused to identify the school and said it is not possible for her to talk with reporters at present.

Huldah, 14, arrived in Moscow by plane Sunday.

Her father is William Clark, a laborer, who is vice chairman of an organization called the Committee for the Promotion of the Education of Negroes in Russia. The chairman is Clarence Coggins of Jersey City, N.J.

Clark reported in Newark last week that Huldah was taking advantage of an offer of a Soviet scholarship made to her by Premier Nikita Khrushchev last Oct. 8 when he was in the United States for a meeting of the U.N. General Assembly. Clark had complained to Khrushchev that Negroes in the United States do not get educations equal in quality to those received by white persons.

Transit For San Mateo Is Opposed

REDWOOD CITY (AP) — The Governmental Research Council, a private taxpayers' organization, has opposed inclusion of San Mateo County in the proposed Bay Area Rapid Transit District.

The council, outspoken against rapid transit for many months, made known its official stand in a report to the county board of supervisors.

The report was prepared by Glen Ireland, research analyst and cost accountant, after a survey of transit plans as they existed before Marin County was eliminated from the district earlier this month.

(Marin was dropped because the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District's board of directors refused to authorize trains on the span.)

San Mateo County voters will decide the transit issue when final plans are submitted to the county.

Ireland said the plan gave no assurance that it would divert travelers from use of automobiles. And if it didn't, Ireland said, taxpayers would have to pay twice—for the transit system and more freeways.

TOO GOOD TO LEAVE ON YOUR GROCER'S SHELVES . . .

GET THEM FOR YOUR SHELVES!

The "Ham What Am" garnished with sugared grapes, and flaming with brandy (or if you prefer, vanilla).

Why one of the most expensive hams you can buy is actually the most sensible ham to serve

Strangely, the story begins with what you don't get in the "Ham What Am" by Armour.

One pig in four

Of every four pigs that go to market, we reject three. Only the young, tender one is worthy of becoming your "Ham What Am."

Then, figuring you don't want to pay for bones and skin, we remove them. We remove the shank, too; it's good eating, but not good enough for your "Ham What Am."

Next the fat

Next the fat goes. We wouldn't want you paying for that, so we trim it off. Outside. And inside, too, where the bones used to be. We leave just enough fat to keep a clove from tipping over.

Then we cure your "Ham What Am" and smoke it. We use only hickory wood. Only hickory, we've found, imparts the smoky sweet flavor you like.

Lazy cooked

Finally, we vacuum pack your "Ham What Am" and cook it twice as slowly as you would at home. This soaks the natural juices right through the ham. And keeps it from shrinking—even the thickness of a knife—in your oven.

The rest is up to you. You can simply slice the ham and serve it cold. Or heat it. Bake it. Or exercise a little bit of your creative ingenuity by adding some glazes, garnishes, or whatever you like.

By now, you will have discovered why the "Ham What Am," although one of the most expensive hams to buy, is actually the most sensible to serve.

No waste

The reason is, there's not a bit of waste. Every morsel of your "Ham What Am" is good eating—lean, tender, juicy—every single time. So pound for pound, portion for portion of meat, it isn't so expensive after all.

The "Ham What Am" comes in a size to fit your family: 1½, 3, 4, 5, 6, 9, 10 lbs. Buy one tomorrow, serve it, and let your family decide if it wasn't worth every penny you paid for it.

THE "Ham What Am" BY ARMOUR

The prize part of the ham, pampered to perfection

New Plastics Firm Now Serving Industries In Marin County

A new Marin County business that slipped rather unobtrusively into existence last July is Monitor Plastics Co., 35 Bay Street, San Rafael.

It is a joint venture of Peter Bayliss of Kent Woodlands and Robert W. Smith of San Rafael, former engineers with the Dumont Manufacturing Corp. Purpose as stated by the two is to supply Bay Area industry with a regional service in the production and development of specialized applications for reinforced plastics and structural bonding. They have had important technical roles in turning out Polaris nose facings and exhaust cones, Pershing and Minuteman nozzles and other developments in fiberglass, polyester-wood and fireproof laminates.

Bayliss and Smith will undertake preparing manufacturing specifications and designs in an engineering consultant capacity. They specialize in large moldings, thick laminates, sandwich and composite structures and tub wrapping.

NEW DODGES will go on display tomorrow at the showrooms of the only remaining dealer in Marin County — Nave's Dodge, Novato.

The 1962 Dart is slightly shorter and lighter than 1961 models, but headroom and legroom have been increased. Both the six-cylinder and V-8 engines have been improved for economy and acceleration up to 60 mph.

Improved heating and ventilation, larger brakes and an easier-operated manual gearshift in the sixes have been added. Functional style changes have also been made.

The Gran Turismo, a prestige sports model has been added to the Lancer line. It is a two-door hardtop with bucket seats and vinyl interior. Engineering changes in the Lancer include a smaller, quieter starter, an easier-handling steering gear, new engine mounts and 32,000-mile sealed chassis lubrication points.

Dodge also introduced this year a high-styled Polara 500 in the sports car market. Long hoodline, short rear deck give a continental flavor to all Polara models. Engineering advances include new automatic transmission, lighter starter, self-adjusting brakes and the popular 32,000-mile chassis lube. Distinctive style changes and matching color combinations in exterior and interior are featured.

Dodge trucks feature a new compact delivery unit, increased driver comfort and handling ease.

Editor Assails Secrecy In Federal Government

BEVERLY HILLS (AP) — A Florida editor charges that American presidents and the American people "have been taken for a tragic ride on the 'sacred cow' of state department secrecy."

Managing Editor V. M. Newton Jr. of the Tampa, Fla., Tribune said in a speech:

"The secrecy of our Department of State is the all-ruling and untouchable 'sacred cow' of Washington today and I suspect, after 10 years research of our federal bureaucracy, that it has been developed solely to hide the mistakes of our diplomatic bureaucrats.

"Secret diplomatic negotiations might have been all right 50 to 100 years ago, when a president, a king or an emperor could declare war secretly and would send only a professional army into combat.

"But I say to you that secret negotiations are obsolete today in a nuclear energy world wherein one single secret bureaucratic mistake could blow away all human life."

He gave his speech at a dinner in honor of Assemblyman Tom Carrell, San Fernando Democrat. Carrell piloted a bill through the legislature which protects reporters of all news media from being forced to reveal their news sources.

U.S. Pacifists Ready To Sail For Russia

TOKYO (AP)—American pacifist Dr. Earle Reynolds and his family sailed their yacht into the southern Japanese port of Moji yesterday enroute to the Soviet Union on a voyage to protest nuclear testing.

"Our destination is either Vladivostok or Nakhodka," said Reynolds' 22-year-old son, Ted. "Or we will weigh anchor at whatever port the Russians will permit us to enter."

He said his family regarded the trip as a duty, keeping a promise made in 1958 to sail into a Soviet port if the Russians resumed nuclear tests. The vow was made after Reynolds sailed the 30-ton yacht, the Phoenix, into an American nuclear test zone in the Pacific.

'OPTIMISTIC'

"If the Russians deny us permission," said young Reynolds, "then we'll make our decision what to do next . . . However, we're optimistic our mission won't fail . . . It has something to do with reducing today's world tension."

The Phoenix is carrying petitions with thousands of antinuclear test signatures from Japan, the only nation to experience atomic attack.

"We hope to be allowed to stay in the Soviet Union for about a month," Ted explained. "That is if things work out as we hope they will. Then we hope to return to Japan before the end of November."

The Phoenix sailed Sunday from Hiroshima where hundreds of well-wishers thronged the dock. Reynolds, 50, teaches anthropology at Hiroshima Women's College.

NO TROUBLE

"I have no intention of stirring up trouble," said Reynolds. "I just want to talk with the Russians to seek their understanding."

He estimated the voyage across the Sea of Japan to the southern tip of the Soviet Union's Pacific Coast will take two weeks. The Phoenix will leave Moji tomorrow.

Also on board are Reynolds' wife, Barbara; his daughter, Jessica, 17, and Thomas Yoneda of San Francisco, a Stanford University graduate studying in Tokyo.

U.S. Business Still Is Booming Abroad

NEW YORK (AP) — The troubled times emphasized by the President in his speech to the United Nations still haven't ruffled noticeably U.S. business planning on the world scene.

Private investment dollars are still pouring abroad. And sales of foreign branches of U.S. firms are rising faster than exports of goods produced here.

Both the foreign host nations and the American corporations doing the investing are reported still happy on the whole.

Two top executives of the U.S. oil industry — which has been having a bit more than its share of troubles of late—take a look at different aspects of foreign investments.

One stresses the outpouring of U.S. government aid and the rising competition of foreign products here. The other reminds the host nations that while U.S. investments abroad are reaping harvests of sales and earnings, the foreign lands are gaining too, and in more ways than one.

The second view is expounded by M. J. Rathbone, president of Jersey Standard Oil.

"Many countries," Rathbone points out, "have found that arrangements with private oil companies give them a stake in one of the world's biggest gambles—entirely without capital cost to the country."

Another side of American involvement abroad is taken up by John E. Swearingen, president of Indiana Standard Oil.

"From July 1, 1945, to June 30, 1960, the United States made available to foreign nations a sum of nearly 86 billion dollars in various types of foreign assistance, grants and loans," Swearingen notes.

Even after all types of repayment and returns of grants have been considered, by June 30, 1962, "our net foreign assistance program will represent the astronomical sum of 86.5 billion dollars," he said.

No Belvedere Action

Belvedere planning commissioners took no action in an adjourned meeting Monday night in their review of the city's zoning ordinance applying to single family residential areas, chairman George Goddard reported.

State General Fund Income Lag Reported

SACRAMENTO (AP)—California's general fund income lagged behind expenditures during the first two months of the 1961-62 fiscal year, State Controller Alan Cranston has reported.

Cranston said income during July and August was $241,744,935, down 3.27 per cent from the same period a year ago.

But, Cranston said, July and August expenditures were boosted 10 per cent to $278,566,331 by a number of one-time withdrawals. He said they will level out as the year progresses.

Sales taxes accounted for 164.5 million dollars in revenue during July and August, a 1.7 per cent increase from last year.

Personal income taxes yielded 19.7 million dollars, bank and corporation franchise taxes 14.5 million, inheritance taxes 10.4 million, liquor taxes 9.1 million, and cigarette taxes 7.8 million.

Expert Says Wine May Help Stop Alcoholism

BORDEAU, FRANCE (UPI) — An American scientist told an international wine and grape study group that wine is a major pharmaceutical agent and and may be "the most effective preventative of alcoholism known to medicine."

Prof. Milton Silverman, director of medical research for the Wine Advisory Board of the California Agriculture Department, also told the international congress for the scientific study of wine and grapes that:

An agent found in red wines stimulates the cardio-vascular system.

In a recent survey, researchers found consumption of wine lower in gout patients than in non gout sufferers.

Wine many be helpful in the hospital treatment of patients with cirrhosis of the liver.

Bad wines by their composition, do no more medical harm than good wines.

Scientific studies have now —even in small quantities— "acts as a true tranquilizer."

Alcoholism is reduced if parents drink moderately, adult intoxication is condemned in the family, children are introduced to alcohol relatively early in their childhood and alcoholic beverages are thought of as food with no one becoming particularly excited about their use.

Alcoholism is encouraged by undue emphasis—either for or against—any alcoholic beverage, and by encouraging youths to drink in large quantity to prove their virility.

"Wine may, therefore, be described as a pharmaceutical agent of major importance and, moreover, an agent which may serve as the most effective preventative of alcoholism known to medicine," Dr. Silverman said.

Is Surplus Land Park Land Just Because It's Surplus?

Marin Sen. John F. McCarthy has raised an interesting question before the State Public Works Board in Sacramento in relation to acquisition of federal surplus property for recreational purposes.

Boiled down, his question is this:

Is surplus federal land good for recreational use just because it was a military installation and thus off the tax rolls anyway?

He raised the question about 130 acres of Fort Baker at the north end of the Golden Gate Bridge. The area spans Highway 101 across the top of the Waldo tunnel. The State Division of Beaches and Parks says the property could be used only for "open space" rather than directly for recreation, but that it should be purchased at a cost of $275,000, half its appraised value.

McCarthy isn't trying to block the proposed Golden Gate State Park. This would include the three forts on the south end of the Marin peninsula, and the beach areas from the Marina to the Cliff House on the San Francisco side of the Golden Gate. He favors such a park, as do we.

His question is aimed at whether the state should buy $4,000 per acre land for the purpose of merely keeping it vacant when if it is returned to the tax rolls it could be developed into high class, tax paying homes.

We're happy that he's raised the question. We don't for a minute think it will seriously delay the park acquisition. But it is a point which has disturbed us.

It is seldom that federal property becomes surplus unexpectedly. Even when it does, there is some time before the state has to make a decision. It should be possible for recreational experts in the Division of Beaches and Parks, or wherever they might be, to survey the property, decide what portions might be prime recreational lands and what might better be used for something else. Then they could encourage the federal government to offer the surplus lands for sale in parcels which would allow the state to buy the recreational lands at half price and let the federal government put the rest up for public sale to the highest bidder.

This would have several advantages. First, the state would not pay for and acquire unusable lands just because they are surplus; second, the state dollar would be conserved for only the best lands; third, the federal government would make more out of the total piece than if the state took it all; fourth, part of the surplus land would go back on the tax rolls.

We hope that McCarthy's question leads the State Public Works Board to adopt a policy which would somewhat follow this suggestion.

THEY TALKED THEIR TROUBLES AWAY

Seven teen-age boys who couldn't seem to get along with anybody took a long step towards a more normal life by talking out their problems.

They were formerly described as "antisocial, uncommunicative and unable to get along at home."

Thanks to a year of group therapy sessions with a well-trained expert, the boys "have come a long way in developing healthy emotional attitudes and in learning to live with their problems."

Some of the causes for their difficulties were: too much parental protection, neglect, rejection and "emotional deprivation."

In even the most unpromising persons, young or old, there is a basic treasure of goodness that only a persevering, loving discipline can bring to the surface.

Be attentive to the ways in which you can give an assist to parents and educators furthering God's handiwork—a normal, healthy human being.

Married Life Isn't Big Headache That It Is For Poor Single Persons

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Fire Commission Meets In Secret

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

. . . On the evening of Sept. 21, I witnessed a demonstration of poor local government unequaled, I think, in past Marin County experience. While this situation concerns primarily the residents of Marinwood, the example of what evolves due to public apathy and lack of participation in local government should be a lesson to us all.

The small community of Marinwood, just north of San Rafael and Terra Linda, is governed by a five man council (elected officials) known as the Community Services District board. This group by law is required to transact all district business in public and open meeting — which, they say, is done.

However, the board fails to mention secret and closed meetings of their satellite official group—the Marinwood Fire Commission.

Our community fire protection is dependent upon the efforts of a fire department of two paid men and 20-30 volunteers. This group, under the guidance of its chief, Don Ray, has done a tremendous job worthy of commendation. During the normal work week (8 to 5) while the volunteers are at their regular jobs, the burden of fire protection falls to the shoulders of our two paid firemen.

Now—it was brought to the attention of the CSD board on Sept. 21 that the board's official organ for administration of the fire department, the fire commission, meeting in secret, unscheduled, private and closed session did, on Sept. 20, present the fire department with a work schedule that will preclude the availability of both our firemen at any given time.

With this new schedule there will be ONLY ONE FIREMAN ON DUTY AT ANY TIME. In effect, this action sets us back three years in our fire protection program.

When presented with these facts, the board imperiously brushed the problem aside with the statement to the individual who presented these facts that she did not know what she was talking about. To the contrary, that lady was exceptionally well informed and extremely well qualified to speak on matters concerning the fire department. It is my opinion as a resident of Marinwood that we are due a complete explanation of why the CSD board chooses to decrease our fire protection rather than increase it.

At the same time it was revealed that in the planning of the recently defeated bond issue for a combination community building and fire house the expert advice of the local fire chief was ignored. Thus the sincere concern of the chief for the welfare of our children — who would be playing in or about the park and community building—and the welfare of our homes were arbitrarily dismissed.

Then, as if this were not enough, the board proceeded to inform their fire chief that he could not voice his objections to the proposed building during the campaign preceding the bond election. Had we all been aware of his most sound objections, I'm certain the issue would have been more soundly defeated than it was . . .

I urgently appeal to all citizens of Marinwood who are concerned in better fire protection, in better local government, and in better personal welfare to PLEASE—I repeat PLEASE — present themselves at future CSD board meetings in order that that board of men might be influenced to perform their duties in a better, more representative manner . . .

Live Animals Cut Up In Schools

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

An article in the Christian Science Monitor Sept. 19 editorial page, entitled "Encouraging Cruelty," so shocked me that I am publicizing it as much as possible.

In Denver, Colo., the children of upper grammar school and high school are doing vivisection on LIVE animals.

In our race to produce scientists, if we discard and trample under foot the moral fiber of our youth, we will lose the very meaning of life we are trying to save.

I hope as many as are interested will read this article. Look in the public library for the Monitor.

Advice To Humming-Birds, Others: Watch Out If All Seems Sweet

A kiss on the hand feels awfully good, but a diamond bracelet lasts forever, we learned years back through "Gentlemen Prefer Blondes."

Tha's how I feel about the birds and bees — a topic mighty basic, of infinite interest.

It is not my intention, kiddies, to instruct you in matters that might delay the I-J in getting through the U. S. mails. Instead let us talk specifically of the birds (humming and bluejays) and the bees (bumble with some hornets) living with us high on our Mill Valley ridge.

NOT ONLY DO these critters pay no rent. They blackmail tribute from us. Don't sell the birds and the bees short, for they're operators.

One of these days Marin County is likely to be run by bluejays.

Hey! Maybe it's already happened and nobody noticed!

Our Mill Valley birds are a mighty brainy, brassy lot. They are right in the class of some English birds I was reading about in an Illustrated London News piece called "When Birds Tap At Windows."

The author said it was a big mistake to think birds tap at windows because they like to look at their own reflections. After all, birds don't tap at mirrors. When they tap at windows they are after handouts.

BIRDS HAVE found that humans are suckers. They are quick to exploit this, avowed the article in which one Maurice Burton said:

"I believe there is a parallel between base forms of human importunity and the bird's ability to detect opportunity for a free meal. In both, there is almost uncanny sense of when to get something with a minimum of effort."

Beat down by a day's chores with such dominating personalities as our Marin supervisors, I creep out from our kitchen to solace myself with a nourishing pitcher of martinis under the live oaks. Don't think I dare forget a special dish of fancy crackers for the bluejays.

What's more, our jays are mighty particular. These cold-blooded bandits swear and swagger. They calculatingly make plain that they want only the best, especially tasty tidbits with cheese in 'em. Plain white crackers needn't apply.

But it took humming-birds to get bees into the act. A friend gave us a glass feeder to hang on a tree and right away the hummers zeroed in, though previously we hadn't seen any for weeks.

It was pretty indeed to watch them "stand still" in the air, dipping their beaks into the glass tube to brink pink sweet fluid down from the reservoir above.

BUT AFTER a few days the bees and hornets began to show up. They loved the humming-bird Pink Ladies but evidently couldn't suck the fluid down.

So their drill was to lie low, let a hummer arrive and prime the pump, then chase him off and get the next drop or two.

This makes the humming-bird mad and he flies back and chases the bee off. But then the bee will go after the hummer. After a short dog-fight in the air Mr. or Mrs. Humming-bird is likely to leave for parts unknown, in a vile state of mind.

NOW AND THEN I've tried to get into the act without much success and to the consternation of wife Agnes. The best I can say is that I haven't been stung yet.

That goes for my pals, the supervisors, except that once in a while they get the needle into me. Of course they claim I stabbed first; but I tell them they've just got me confused with some careless colleague.

My advice to humming-birds is to watch out. Everybody watch out, in fact, especially when all seems sweet.

German Election Results Reassure West But Raise Future Questions

WASHINGTON — The results of the German election are substantially reassuring to the West. But they do raise some anxious questions about the future.

The central consequence of the voting last week was that it ended the 12 years of Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's unchallenged supremacy as the leader of postwar Germany. It opened a new era in West German politics.

Even if the 85-year-old Dr. Adenauer continues for a peroid as head of a coalition, his dominance of the political scene is over and new forces will be shaping the policies and mood of the Bonn government.

HAVING WATCHED the German political campaign at first-hand both four years ago and this fall, I am impressed by the maturity and sophistication of the German voters. They voted in larger numbers than in most Western democracies and it is obvious that they were stampeded neither by events—the Berlin crisis helped Mayor Willy Brandt, but not greatly—nor by campaign oratory.

In light of the returns the credit side of the ledger of German politics as it affects the West emerges as follows:

IN SUBSTANCE the German electorate expressed its disapproval of Chancellor Adenauer's personal leadership but registered substantial approval of both his domestic and foreign policies.

Although Mayor Brandt, as the new national leader of the Social Democratic Party, succeeded in wrenching his party from its neutralist, anti-NATO position of four years ago and giving it a pro-Western image, the voters showed a certain mistrust of whether Brandt could carry his party with him if he were chancellor.

In effect, they put Brandt and the SPD on trial in order to see if the changes in party policy, which he had managed, could be made to stick. Thus the SPD gained only moderately in the total popular vote (31.8 to 36.3 per cent) and in Bundestag seats (168 to 190).

The voters gave the decisive balance of power to the third party, the Free Democrats, since they had promised not to help the Socialists to form a government and to cooperate with the Adenauer party, the Christian Democratic Union, but not with Dr. Adenauer as chancellor.

THE NEW GERMAN government, which will emerge in some form of coalition between the C. D. U. (241 seats) and the Free Democrats (66 seats) in the next few weeks, will be strongly wedded to the free-enterprise policies which have brought the German people such great prosperity during the past four years. Eric Mende, the leader of the Free Democrats, is a kind of Robert Taft of German politics, a strong supporter of the conservative economics minister, Ludwig Erhardt, and one who would like to call a halt on the expanding social welfare measures of the Adenauer regime.

The majority of the German people and the majority in the new Bundestag remain pro-Western in sympathy and in purpose. But the dawning end of the Adenauer era raises question marks. The coming months will be critical

Beginning To Look Like Wild Campaign For Governorship

By JAMES C. ANDERSON

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—It's beginning to look like there'll be a free-for-all for governor of California in 1962.

Three Republicans already are in the race—and a fourth, Richard M. Nixon, very possibly may announce his candidacy tonight in a news conference in Los Angeles.

On the Domocratic side, Gov. Edmund G. Brown appears to be a cinch to seek another four-year term but it becomes increasingly evident he'll be challenged by Robert I. McCarthy, a former state senator who quit Brown's cabinet in a huff last August.

If Nixon announces his candidacy, as most politicians think he will, GOP voters next June could be presented with these choices:

Nixon, 48, a native Californian who started out as a congressman in 1946, leaped to the U. S. Senate in 1950, became vice president in the 1952 Eisenhower sweep and narrowly lost the presidency to John F. Kennedy last November. Even though he lost that election, he carried California over Kennedy by a margin of 35,623 votes.

Goodwin J. Knight, 64, governor from 1953 when Earl Warren went to the Supreme Court until 1959. Knight won a full four-year term in 1954 by a margin of 551,151 votes but in a Tinkers-to-Evers-to-Chance play in 1958 he sought the office of U. S. Senator instead of running again for governor and was defeated by Democrat Clair Engle.

Joseph C. Shell, young Los Angeles assemblyman and leader of his party in the lower house of the legislature. An avowed conservative, Shell is running on a platform of lower taxes and less government spending.

Harold J. (Butch) Powers, 61, a former lieutenant governor who hails from Modoc County. He served 23 years in the state senate and was lieutenant governor from 1953 to 1959. He lost by less than 100,000 votes to Glenn M. Anderson in the Democratic sweep of 1958.

On the Democratic side, judging from McCarthy's hints at a news conference yesterday, the pairing will be:

Brown, who rolled over William F. Knowland by more than a million votes in 1958 and ended 16 years of Republican rule in the statehouse. The governor, 56, has called his administration "responsible liberalism" and will campaign on the line that he has balanced the budget for three straight years, won passage of a 1.75-billion dollar water program and brought progressive government to the state.

McCarthy, only 40, who has been in politics since 1948, first as an assemblyman, then as a state senator and, finally, as an unsuccessful candidate for attorney general in 1958 when he was beaten in the Democratic primary by the eventual winner, Stanley Mosk. He was one of Brown's first cabinet appointees but quit the directorship of motor vehicles after writing an angry letter accusing Brown of running a "spineless administration."

McCarthy told newsmen yesterday it is "entirely probable" he will announce for governor early next year. He described Brown as a "confused weathervane" whose administration has been marked by "uncertainty and confusion."

As for Nixon, McCarthy said he felt he might be a weaker Republican nominee than Knight because "Nixon isn't interested one iota in the welfare of the people of California but only how quickly he can vault into the White House."

With 13 months of campaigning ahead, voters can look forward to one of the longest—and very possibly the loudest—campaigns in recent years.

Nat King Cole's Wife Has Twins

SANTA MONICA (AP)— Twin girls were born yesterday to Mr. and Mrs. Nat King Cole.

The daughters, Casey and Timolin, weighed 5 lbs., 14 oz. and 5 lbs., 7 oz., respectively. The Negro singer and his wife have three other children, Carol, 16; Natalie, 11, and Nat Kelly, 2.

Walter Mails Guest Of Knights Tomorrow

Walter (the Great) Mails, San Francisco Giants' publicist whose baseball career began on Marin sandlots of 1904 and led to the pitching mound of the major leagues, will be guest speaker at the first "father and son night" of the San Rafael Council, Knights of Columbus, at Star Hall in San Anselmo at 8 p.m. tomorrow.

Mails will illustrate his remarks with pictures of the 1960 World Series.

Crocodile Hunters Use Clubs, Ropes

KAMPALA, Uganda (AP) — A highely successful new method of crocodile hunting is reported from Uganda's West Nile District. The hunters paddle hollowed-out logs through the papyrus swamps at night, trailing decayed fish as a lure.

When a crocodile comes alongside, one man dazzles it with a powerful torch while the other stuns it momentarily with a club.

Before the crocodile has time to recover, the hunters bind its jaws and lash its tail alongside the dug-out.

"The advantage of this method," explained a local administrator, is that they can collect several crocodiles on one trip. If they killed the crocodile they would have to return immediately or the skin would spoil.

"If the man with the club fails to hit the exact spot, or if the crocodile recovers before they finish trying it up, that's too bad, of course. We advise amateurs not to try this method."

Convis Elected To Scout Post

Deputy Dist. Atty. Charles Convis has been elected chairman of the Miwok District of the Marin Boy Scout Council. He will head the district committee serving in San Rafael and Novato areas.

Convis has previously served as vice chairman and training chairman. He is chairman of the business division of the Marin United Fund. He has served as scoutmaster of troops in Marinwood, Terra Linda, and San Diego County, and has been an instructor in the woodbadge courses, advanced training for Scouters.

Mr. and Mrs. Convis live in Marinwood, and are the parents of four children.

Convis will serve the remainder of the term of Roane Sias, who has resigned.

Bank Holdup Man Given Six Years

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A Naval shipyard worker with four children yesterday was sentenced to six years in federal penitentiary for attempting to rob a Bank of America Branch.

Kenneth Vaillancourt, 30, was captured July 28 after a wild chase and a blaze of gunfire.

His attempt to rob the bank was frustrated by the screams of teller Mrs. Winifred Cassar, 20. She had been held up in December.

U.S. Dist. Judge William T. Sweigert refused probation and a long sentence was in order because "a gun is a serious thing and firing it is a desperate offense."

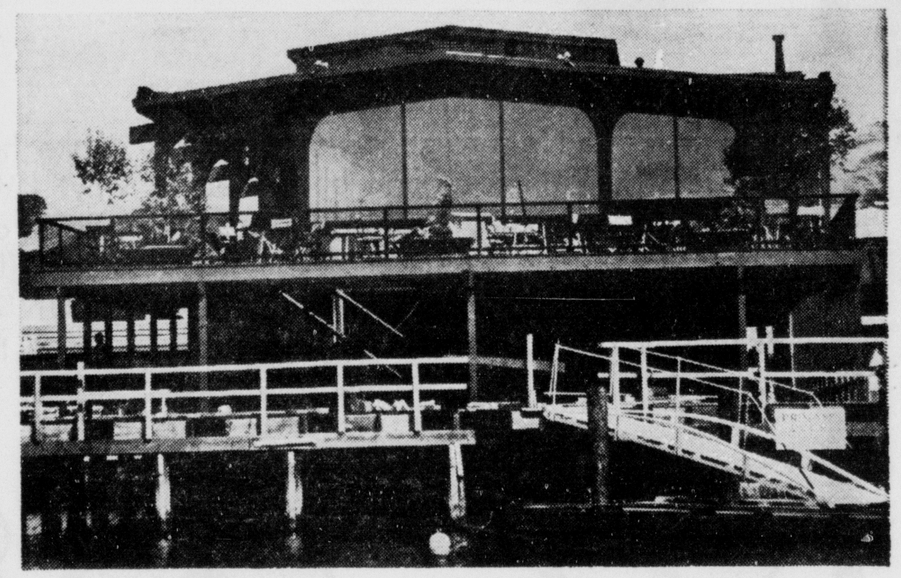
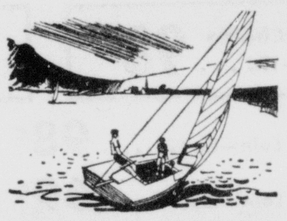
Now, About That DOCK in Tiburon . . . ?



Well, we're glad you asked.

In fact, we're overwhelmingly grateful that so many people have been asking about our new restaurant when we've only been open for three weeks. First off, for instance, we have to correct a wrong impression. We've met some people who think we're such a high-class place that you have to dress up to come here. But COME-AS-YOU-ARE is a Tiburon tradition and we'd be the last people to try to change it. Besides, you know we have BOAT-DOCKING FACILITIES out in back (our picture windows overlook Belvedere Cove), and could you imagine someone maneuvering a sailboat in here in a white shirt and tie? However you dress, come in and enjoy the ever-changing VIEW OF SAN FRANCISCO, and the fresh air on the PATIO. (Even if you're the fragile type, you can still enjoy the fresh air, the patio is fitted with individually controlled HEAT LAMPS to keep you warm in the evening.) In the afternoon, enjoy LUNCHEON or cocktails on the SUN DECK overlooking the docks. PRICES are informal, too. Dinners start at $3.50, and you can have a complete STEAK DINNER for only $3.95. We specialize in CHARCOAL BROILED STEAKS AND FISH, and a special feature of every dinner is our special CART SERVICE for soup and salad du jour: salad is mixed at your table in an iced bowl, and soup served hot right off an alcohol flame. RESERVATIONS really are not needed during the week, and on week-ends are not accepted as everyone is treated on a first come, first served basis (Reservations are advised any day for parties of six or over).



In addition to the spacious dining room, bar, patio and sun deck, we have a PRIVATE DINING ROOM for up to 50 people. Oh, and just because we're called THE DOCK, and have one, don't be afraid to come by car. There's FREE PARKING at the U-park lot just across Tiburon Boulevard; just bring in your ticket. Those are about all the things we do, and have, and are; but there's one thing we DON'T do: we DON'T TAKE CREDIT CARDS. You see, charge accounts cost money; they mean additional bookkeeping, and in the case of established credit cards, we have to pay a surcharge to the charge company. Most restaurants simply pass this on to all their customers by increasing prices but we think we have a better idea. You can have a CHARGE ACCOUNT if you want it, but it will cost you 5 per cent extra. Well, that should cover everything. Oh yes, HOURS. Simple: We're open from 11 A. M. SEVEN DAYS A WEEK Thanks for listening: Come in and get acquainted.

ALMANAC

Today is Wednesday, Sept. 27, the 270th day of the year with 95 more to follow in 1961.

The moon is approaching its last quarter.

The morning star is Venus.

The evening stars are Jupiter and Saturn.

On this day in history:

In 1779, John Adams was named to negotiate peace terms with Great Britain.

In 1945, Japanese Emperor Hirohito called on Gen. Douglas MacArthur, supreme commander of the allied powers. This was the first time a Japanese sovereign made a call on a foreign dignitary.

In 1954, A select subcommittee of the U.S. Senate recommended unanimously a Senate vote of censure against Sen. Joseph McCarthy (R-Wis.) For contempt of the Senate privileges and elections subcommittee and unwarranted abuse of Brig. Gen. Ralph Zwicker.

A thought for today: American patriot John Adams said: "Where annual elections end, there slavery begins."

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

If You Have Only One Good Play —Better Make Sure You Use It

A player who is dealt only one high card tends to complain about hard luck, for all the good it may do him. If he has misused that one high card, his complaints will fall on doubly deaf ears.

West led the king of hearts and declarer won with dummy's ace and returned a low club from dummy. East played low, and South played the seven.

West won with the jack of clubs, cashed the queen of hearts and got out with a trump. Dummy's seven of trumps won, and declarer led another low club from dummy.

This time East stepped up with the king of clubs, but it was too late. When East led a diamond, South stepped up with the ace of diamonds, correctly assuming that West was marked with the king of diamonds for his takeout double.

SETS UP CLUBS: South next led a spade to the jack and ruffed a club, setting up the rest of dummy's suit. He returned to dummy with the ace of trumps to discard two diamonds on the last two clubs.

As you can imagine, East complained bitterly about being dealt only one king. It's not hard to imagine West's tone as he pointed out that East didn't deserve a king if he didn't know when to play it.

East must put up the king of clubs when the suit is first led. He returns a diamond immediately, and South must lose a diamond trick. This defeats the contract.

He Double-Crosses His Canine Friends

PORT ARTHUR, Tex. (UPI)— Catching stray dogs is a cinch for this city's assistant dogcatcher.

He is a dog, too.

The canine catcher's name is Bud, an 85-pound German Shepherd who is the pet of dogcatcher Anthony Broussard.

Bud rides on top of Broussard's truck, waiting for an assignment. When Broussard spots a stray dog, he calls for Bud to chase the dog.

After catching the stray, Bud often lies on top of his victim until Broussard arrives to rope the dog. Their teamwork pays off with an average of about 10 catches a day.

Waterfront Land To Be Discussed

Jan Konecny of Berkeley, president of the San Francisco Bay Assn., will discuss the importance of open waterfront land in the Bay Area at the home of Mrs. Palmer Field at 1705 Centro West, Tiburon, at 8:15 p.m. tomorrow.

Mrs. Field, president of the Belvedere-Tiburon Conservation League, said interested persons are invited to attend.

Sanitary Unit Meets On Pending Lawsuit

Richardson Bay Sanitary District directors Monday night discussed a lawsuit pending against the district by Marin Land Co. and Marin County over payment for repairs of sewers at Harbor Point. No action was taken.

Directors will meet again tomorrow to discuss the matter further prior to the trial set for next Tuesday in Marin superior court, secretary Samuel A. Fletcher said.

Off Fellow Visit

Cecil L. Fife of Port Chicago, Contra Costa County, grand chaplain of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows for California, will make an official visit to Mount Tamalpais Lodge 399 of Mill Valley at 8 p.m. today at the Odd Fellows Temple, according to Chaplain A. G. Hughes.

Scientists Challenge Hallucination Idea

NEW YORK (UPI) — A long-held scientific idea about people may be tottering. This idea is that people who have hallucinations about smells are sicker than those who have them about sights and sounds.

The idea goes further. It holds that among people given to having hallucinations, the vast majority hear "voices" and see "visions" and very few center their hallucinations upon that other sense, the one of smell.

Drs. Shirley L. Rubert and Marc H. Hollender of the State University of New York, Syracuse, saw no reason why this should be true when they began thinking about the idea. After all, people, whether they are well or sick, smell as well as see and hear "things."

But they found no immediate justification for skepticism. They are on the staff of the Syracuse Psychiatric Hospital. Of the patients discussed at staff conferences no more than one in a hundred were said to have hallucinations of smell and usually the general outlook for them was not good.

Psychiatrists are keenly interested in hallucinations, naturally. They're analyzed, dissected, compared. Psychiatrists ask patients what "voices" they have heard, what "visions" they have seen. It dawned on Drs. Rubert and Hollender that perhaps psychiatrists don't ask about what the nose hallucinates.

Hollander put the question to six patients, and all six said, sure, they now and then imagined smelling things. That launched a full-scale scientific investigation. Thirty-six patients who had been given to hallucinations of sight and sound for a year or longer were taken at random.

They were asked if they ever had hallucinations of smell. Thirty of the 36 had them which certainly indicated they were not rare. Why haven't you mentioned this? Each one was asked, and each one replied: Nobody asked me.

That disposed of one half of the long-held scientific idea. As for the other half, the scientists said they believed the smell hallucination could not indicate the depth of the illness. Some of the "acutely" ill patients they questioned recovered in less than three months.

They wondered why so few patients reported their hallucinations of smell and why psychiatrists didn't ask patients if they had them. "The sense of smell obviously is biologically less important to man than to other animals," they said in reporting to the technical journal, "Archives of Psychiatry."

And there are also the social taboos. They affect both psychiatrist and patient. Generally speaking people comment only on pleasant odors such as those arising from flowers and perfume. Disagreeable odors are not mentioned in polite society.

The smell hallucinators found their imagined smells unpleasant in the main. Many of the hallucinations were of the smells of burning things. To one hallucinator the smell suggested someone was being burned in hell-fire.

The psychiatrists thought hallucinations of smell were much less impressive to the people who have them than hallucinations centered on the other senses. One patient said: "I was more frightened of the noise and sights than I was of odors."

HYDRANT MUST BE MOVED

Tiburon's "hydrant by the taxi stand" was told to move on yesterday.

County supervisors told the Tiburon Fire Protection District, which set up a hydrant on Main Street space occupied by Ted's Taxi, to move the hydrant.

Public Works Director Marvin W. Brigham suggested that "50 feet of additional pipe would be a cheap price for a parking stall in that area." He indicated the hydrant might go best inside the curve at the end of the street.

THE MILL CREEK
"The Most Magnificent Address In Marin"

My family is raised and I've sold my home—Now I want trouble-free living and move into an apartment. But it must be very large and gorgeous. A 1-bedroom (900 sq. ft.) or 2-bedroom (1,200 sq. ft.). We want Country-Park-like setting with tall beautiful redwood trees, a live creek meandering through the property. Must be level, and walking distance to the quaint downtown shopping of Mill Valley . . . OH DEAR! We have just wished ourselves into the MILL CREEK. You will too if you see this unbelievable setting. From $145. Adults. Come feast your eyes this weekend.
